

Committee Votes More Park Funds

Chadron's $30,400
Tops List O.K.'d

The miscellaneous appropriations committee equalized and increased the budget recommended by the game commission for improvement of state parks at a meeting Wednesday. Park bills calling for major expenditures, however, were held in committee.

The game commission has fought off efforts to have the 10 per cent authorized from hunting and fishing licenses used for state parks and the committee did not so earmark the park budgets.

Aid To Six Parks.
Recommendations of the committee, which will be in the form of an amendment to their appropriation bill are:

Chadron—water supply, $3,700; barracks, $27,400.

Niobrara—master plan, $1,600; 2 cabins, $8,000.

Ponca—master plan, $1,600; water supply, $2,000; 2 cabins, $8,000; playground equipment, $1,000.

Fl. Kearney—water supply, $1,500; sanitation, tables and fireplaces, $2,000.

Arbor Lodge—repair mansion, $3,000.

Victoria Springs—sanitation, $500; house repair, $500.

The banking committee killed a measure that would have the state carry insurance on motor vehicles rather than have settlements made after accidents by the appropriations committee.

2 Youths Given Year Probation

Robert J. Bayless, 18, 2737 Starr, and James Lovelace, 17, 1533 North Twenty-ninth street, Wednesday each received probation for one year on charges of car theft.

Municipal Judge Edward C. Fisher suspended imposition of sentence for the period of probation. Both had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Bayless and Lovelace were arraigned Tuesday afternoon on the charge of stealing a car belonging to Richard McCoy Monday night, but the judge took the case under advisement until Wednesday morning.

Lovelace was arrested by police Monday night after he had wrecked the auto during a 65-mile-an-hour attempt to elude the police. Bayless was implicated in the theft and was arrested a short time later the same night.

Sick Room Shelf To Be Established

By Jewish Council

A "sick loan shelf" as a new service to augment work of the city's social agencies is being established by the Lincoln section of the National Council of Jewish Women, it was announced Thursday.

Items on the shelf for use in the sick room will be loaned on a non-secular and interracial basis free of charge to all persons of the community.

To Aid In Illness.

Purpose of the sick loan shelf is to make available on a loan basis, to all families where there is illness in the home, such sick room equipment as may be needed by the doctor, nurse, and patient. Patients will be referred by the co-operating medical groups and social agencies. All items will be properly sterilized after each loan.

The community chest and the council of social agencies have approved the project and a survey shows a need for this type of service is otherwise unavailable in Lincoln at present.

Knowing that many people own sick room equipment which is not being used but which is occupying needed space and feeling that these people would be glad to donate or loan these articles, a drive is being started at this time to collect such material and assist in getting the sick loan shelf started, a group leader said Thursday.

The sick room equipment needed will consist of:

- back rests
- handbags
- bed linen
- bed pads
- bed tables
- bed trays
- cribs
- crutches
- electric fans
- electric pads
- enema bags
- glass trays
- high chairs
- hospital beds
- hot water bottles
- ice bags
- infrared lamps
- nursery chairs
- portable ice box
- rubber sheeting
- thermometers
- urinals
- wash basins
- water jugs
- wheel chairs

Any persons owning sick room equipment as mentioned above who would like to donate or loan these articles can leave them at the Community Emergency Shop, 301 South Fifteenth street, or if pick-up service is desired, may call 2-4158.

$5 CAR STAMP

—within the taxpayers' ability to pay. These funds will be further argued by reductions in highway costs already noticeable.

"We suggest the legislature use LB 402 as a means of giving Nebraska citizens a temporary 'cooling off' period for two years in order that there may be established a definite highway plan and program."

We do not have such a plan and program today. If LB 399 (gas tax) and LB 401 (motor vehicle registration fees) are enacted, the legislature will be doing what the proponents of these measures, as well as the members of the legislature have denounced as being beyond the prerogative of any legislature to bind the next."

"However, it is a well established fact that if taxes are imposed, such as proposed in LB 399 and LB 401, that we will have a '20-year tax program.'"

Cited as good points of the proposed amendment by the conference was that it "is flexible in its rates and operations," "does not attempt to bind future legislatures, provides specific uses for the funds provided, produces funds almost immediately," and, "is endorsed by organizations representing the vast majority of real highway users."

N. P. Woman Renamed Head Ladies Of GAR

Sons Of Union Vets Name William McNally, Schuyler As Commander

Two allied orders of the Grand Army of the Republic Wednesday afternoon elected officers for next year.

The Ladies of the G. A. R., meeting at the Lincoln hotel, re-elected Mrs. Cora McMichael, North Platte, president. Mrs. Mabel Humphrey of Lincoln, senior vice-president, and Mrs. Ida Bodford of North Platte, junior vice-commander.

Mrs. Lydia Vosholtz of Fremont is the group's new secretary and Mrs. Ruth Amos of North Platte, treasurer. Mrs. Grace Bell of North Platte was chaplain.

Others officers are: Mrs. Beale Irvine, Lincoln, counselor; Dr. Maude Bell, Lincoln, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Nellie Rhinold, Lincoln, registrar; Mrs. Minnie Hoffman, Lincoln, historian.

The group held a dinner on Wednesday evening at which time they honored Mrs. Edna M. Ray of San Francisco, Calif., national president of the Ladies of the G. A. R.

Mrs. Tawnette Paul of Kansas City, Mo., national secretary of Ladies of G. A. R., was also introduced.

S. U. V. Officers.

Sons of the Union Veterans, meeting at the Lincoln hotel, elected William McNally of Schuyler as new department commander.

Other S. U. V. officers include: Albert W. Foust, Schuyler, secretary-treasurer; Alvin Muehlisch, Schuyler, senior vice-commander; Chris Eller, Schuyler, junior vice-commander; Cramm, Schuyler, patriotic instructor.

Carlton A. Foust and John E. McNally, both of Schuyler, department organizers; John Sheehan, Lincoln, color bearer; Joseph Catten, Fremont, chaplain.

Three conductors elected by the group are: Arthur W. Smith, Schuyler; George Eberly, Lincoln; I. Leath, Lincoln.

Omaha Heads W. R. C.

The Women's Relief corps elected its department president. Other officers will be elected Thursday.

Mrs. Nettie Jackson of Omaha is the new president. Daughters of the Union Veterans, meeting at the Cornhusker hotel, held a rather daughter banquet. Special guests honored at the banquet were:

Pete Fench of Allagan, Mich., national commander in chief of Sons of the Union Veterans and his wife; Ralph R. Barrett of Huntington, Cal., past national commander of S.U.V. auxiliary; Art Smith of Schuyler, Neb., department president of S.U.V.; and Miss Letitia Hoover of Fremont, department senior vice president of D.O.V.

Nebraskans Named Officers In DOES

CARLSBAD, N. M. — (AP) — Four Nebraskans have been elected to offices in the Order of DOES, Elks club auxiliary.

Mrs. Grace De Bano of McCook was named supreme first counselor, Mrs. Elva O'Donnell, Omaha, was re-elected secretary, and Mrs. Loreta Burtis, Kearney, was named supreme conductor.

Mrs. Letitia Don Carlos of Perry, Iowa, was elected supreme president succeeding Mrs. Florence Hampton of Chadron, Neb., who was named a three-year trustee.

make corrections in LB 23, already law. This would change the necessity for check of the financial responsibility of relatives of old age recipients to cases where there is a question of doubt and by recommendations of the county assistance director.

LB 543 and 544 provide authority for purchase of group life insurance. One makes it permissible for public power districts and the other for municipal utilities in cities of the first and second class.

'Oil Well Bonus' Bill To Floor

By a vote of 30 to 2, the legislature ordered out to general file LB 436, which provides a $15,000 reward for discovery of oil producing wells. Each county in which a well is discovered would pay $5,000 bonus and the state an additional $10,000.

Production of 50 barrels daily for 60 days would be required to qualify for the bonus. The bill was introduced by Sen. Bohkne. Sens. Lester Anderson and Norman spoke in behalf of the bill as an attempt to undo the effects of the "white spot campaign" and wake up the state to development. Sens. Metzger and W. Wilson contended it would encourage small independent drillers to enter the state.

It was pointed out that the state will not be put to any expense unless results are obtained. Some senators said the bonus figures were too low and said they would amend to make the bonus $50,000.

The legislature also returned LB 507, which it had passed, for reconsideration and making of corrections. Fees were changed in the motor vehicle title bill to avoid double taxation.

Spike Jones Demonstrates How To Depreciate Music

Music, figuratively speaking, was featured and distorted at the University of Nebraska coliseum Wednesday night when Spike Jones and his City Slickers blew into Lincoln for a one-night stand.

The "Musical Depreciation Review," sponsored by the university's Mortar Boards, senior women honorary society, included a conglomeration of orchestra numbers complete with familiar cowbells, washboards, pistols, tin cans and gongs. Perhaps most entertaining were their interpretations of "Chloe," "Cocktails for Two," and "That Old Black Magic."

The group of 40-odd also introduced such musical contrivances never before seen on or off the stage. Tap dance routines, juggling and acrobatic performances added to the two-and-one-half hours of planned confusion.

Doodles Weaver was spotlighted as the performer who swung a mean hip in a hula dance and Miss Notes, who was introduced as a guest from "Queen for a Day," displayed a fine voice which of course was well disguised by the Jones' crew.

Of more particular interest to the Lincoln audience was Spike's frequent references to local officials, including Mayor Clarence Miles and Dean T. J. Thompson. The entire performance swept the audience into gales of laughter from start to finish.

Lift Blockade Next Week

discuss German questions. In that phase, at least, Russia can count some measure of victory.

Reds Claim A Victory.

Today Moscow's press and radio told its people of the agreement without editorial comment. But the Russian views were reflected in their press elsewhere. In Germany, for instance, the Soviet-licensed press said the allies had "backed down" in agreeing to the four power talks. It said the communist military victories in China and the communist "peace" demonstrations in New York, Paris and Prague recently were factors in this.

In London, the communist Daily Worker called the agreement "a retreat for the United States."

The indicated Russian position is that ending of the blockade is a gesture of conciliation and peaceful intent by the Soviet Union which has compelled a retreat by "warmongers" of the west. American leaders, on the other hand, are expected to emphasize that only by maintaining the policy of western unity as demonstrated by the Atlantic pact can the west hope to retain the gains it has made.

Major Battle Ahead.

In this spirit, the west now comes to a major battle of the cold war—the diplomatic fight for Germany. Many western observers believe a victory for the west in this fight would shatter the iron curtain, for eastern Europe traditionally leans heavily on Germany for supplies it needs and cannot get in sufficient quantity from Russia.

This phase opens at Paris May 23.

The Russians already have indicated what they want in Germany: Unification of the country with heavy representation for the communists, modification of allied control of the Ruhr, an early end to military occupation.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the retiring U. S. military governor of Germany, has sounded a note of warning that communism has not changed its stripes. He expects the airlift to continue until the western sectors of Berlin have a stockpile of 200,000 tons of supplies on hand.

For Berlin, the agreement means the end of the blockade blues. The population has struggled for almost a year with little heat, insufficient food, darkened streets and darkened homes.

Meanwhile, the planners of the west German republic are going ahead with the final drafting of a constitution. The west has given no indication of willingness to abandon that idea. It will be on the agenda of the Big Four at Paris.

Starvation Averted.

The Soviets would have succeeded in one of these objectives—or in precipitating a war—had it not been for the success of the airlift operation. It prevented the starvation both of the German population and the allied inhabitants in the city.

The airlift became a symbol of western determination to stand firm against Russian pressure and a demonstration of American and British aerial might. Meanwhile the counter blockade measures which the western powers took against the whole Soviet zone put the Russians themselves under heavy economic pressure and proved another factor in their eventual defeat at Berlin.

So far the airlift has cost the United States $175,498,000 in money, plus 27 lives lost and 28 airplanes wrecked.

R.O.T.C. Parade Review At N. U.

Seven awards were presented to the University of Nebraska R.O.T.C. Thursday afternoon at a review parade on the field near the coliseum.

Col. James W. Clyburn, who will succeed Col. Howard John as commandant of the cadet corps in June, will award the honors.

Among the awards are those for military efficiency, the Col. Frankforter infantry award and a special presentation to the honor company. Honors will be given by the American Society of Military Engineers, the U. S. Field Artillery association and the American Ordnance association.

Ordinance On Signs Sought

Zoning Committee To Seek Council Approval

The zoning board wants a sign ordinance.

The board Thursday appointed a two-man committee, Chauncey Barney and Harold Hoppe, to appear before the council, probably next Monday, to ask for the passage of an ordinance establishing standards of sign type, size and distance apart.

"We have no law under which to operate," Barney said. "This board has no standard with which to decide whether to grant or deny sign applications."

The board also cited several alleged violations of the city zoning ordinances which it will call to the council's attention.

In its routine action, the board: (1) Granted the application of J. Phillip Mahoney for permission to build a garage at 5101 Fremont.

(2) Took no official action on Mrs. Ella Wilson's application for permission to enclose a side porch on her home at 1749 Washington. The board voted two to one to deny the application but since a majority of the board — three — must vote for or against an application, the vote was not official. A quorum of three members was present.

(3) Granted a permit to Leo Burk to maintain an office and storeroom for merchandise in connection with his vending machine business at 2609 South Eleventh street.

(4) Denied the application of Leta Evert Martin for a permit to build a two-story garage in the basement of her home at 2519 D. Such construction is not permitted under the zoning ordinances.

(5) Granted Western Good Roads Service company permission to build one of two signs requested on the west side of highway 77, near 3245 South Tenth, but split two to one on granting the other.

(6) Granted C. Marvin Roberts permission to build a drive-in cafe at Thirty-first and Adams provided the building is set back 35 feet from the property line.

WRC Officers.

Meeting at the Lincoln hotel, the Women's Relief Corps elected the following officers:

Sadie Fox, Fremont, senior vice president; Clara Everett, Central City, junior vice president; Nellie Goodwin, Lincoln, treasurer; P. G. Fairbury, chaplain.

Named to the executive board were: Marie Wenigshoff, Omaha, chairman; Lorne Peters, Omaha; Berrie Ball, Lincoln; Maude Teets, Hastings; Nellie Hubbert, Ames; Mrs. Nettie Jackson was named president of the organization Wednesday afternoon. She succeeds Mrs. Katherine Rose, Fairbury.

Mrs. Smith Elected.

The auxiliary to the oSons of the Union Veterans Wednesday re-elected Mrs. Clara Smith president. Bessie Irvine, Lincoln, was named vice-president, Mrs. Pauline Cram, Schuyler, secretary; Mrs. Orpha Kinnaman, Lincoln, treasurer, and Mrs. Alta Watts, Schuyler, chaplain.

North Platte Woman Heads State D. U. V.

Mrs. Hoover Named At Last Meeting Of G.A.R. Encampment

Two allied orders of the Grand Army of the Republic Thursday elected officers for the next year.

The officers were elected at the last day of the three-day encampment of the state G. A. R. here. The encampment was the last for the state G. A. R. The organization will officially close its books July 1.

However, the five allied orders of the organization will continue to function after that date.

Mrs. Leonora Hoover, North Platte, was elected president of the Daughters of the Union Veterans at their meeting at the Cornhusker hotel.

Other officers named are:

Mrs. Nellie Elsom, Kearney, senior vice president; Mrs. Hazel Uhl, Omaha, chaplain; Mrs. Margaret Walis, Omaha, junior vice president; Mrs. Rachel Reichwein, Lincoln, treasurer; Mrs. Millie Whalen, Fremont, council member No. 1.

Mrs. Jean Uhl, Omaha, council member No. 2.

Mrs. Nettie B. Hasty, McCook, inspector; Mrs. Lina Barnett, Fremont, Fremont, pastie inspector.

Mrs. Pearl Westead, Omaha, delegate-at-large.

Mrs. Mary McMillan, Omaha, alternate-at-large.

Name Convention Delegates.

The group also named sixteen delegates to the state national convention. They are:

Helen White, Omaha; Margaret Walis, Omaha; Rose Medley, Lincoln; Myrtle Willerting, Omaha; Mrs. Andrew, Lincoln; Mrs. Anna Sloane, Lincoln; Dorothy Butler, North Platte; Grace Hardy, Kearney; Mattie Lape, Beatrice; Eva Kessler, North Platte; Estella Reichwein, Bellingwood.

Optimists Told Of Pulitzer Award

Raymond A. McConnell, jr., editor of the State Journal, discussed the recent Pulitzer award received by the paper at a meeting of the Optimist club Thursday noon at the Cornhusker.

He outlined the significance of the meritorious service award and explained the origin of the annual honors established by Joseph Pulitzer and Columbia university.

five allied orders of the G.A.R. will continue to meet simultaneously or hold separate meetings was not decided at the convention.

The officers of four organizations—the W.R.C., S. U.V. and its auxiliary, and the Ladies of the G.A.R.—said they favored continuing the joint meetings.

Meeting Issue Undecided.

But Mrs. Eva Greer, North Platte, retiring president of the D.U.V., said:

"It is in our by-laws that we meet with the (state) Grand Army as long as there is a state Grand Army. After that, the meeting place will be decided upon by department officers and may or may not be with the other allied orders."

The issue probably will be settled at a later meeting of the department officers of the five orders.

Lincoln Woman Is Delegate To Episcopal Meet

GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—(AP) —The state woman's auxiliary of the Episcopal church named delegates to the national convention during the 63rd annual meeting of the group here today.

Those named were Mrs. C. G. Perry, Gering; Mrs. W. L. Williams, Lincoln; Mrs. F. W. Baker, Omaha; Mrs. W. P. Reid, Omaha, and Mrs. A. B. Sturgeon, Alliance.

National convention alternates chosen were Mrs. H. R. Brinker, Omaha; Mrs. C. F. Bechtold, Lincoln; Mrs. W. P. Venable, Columbus; Mrs. Edmund Nuss, Hastings, and Mrs. Chilton Powell, Omaha.

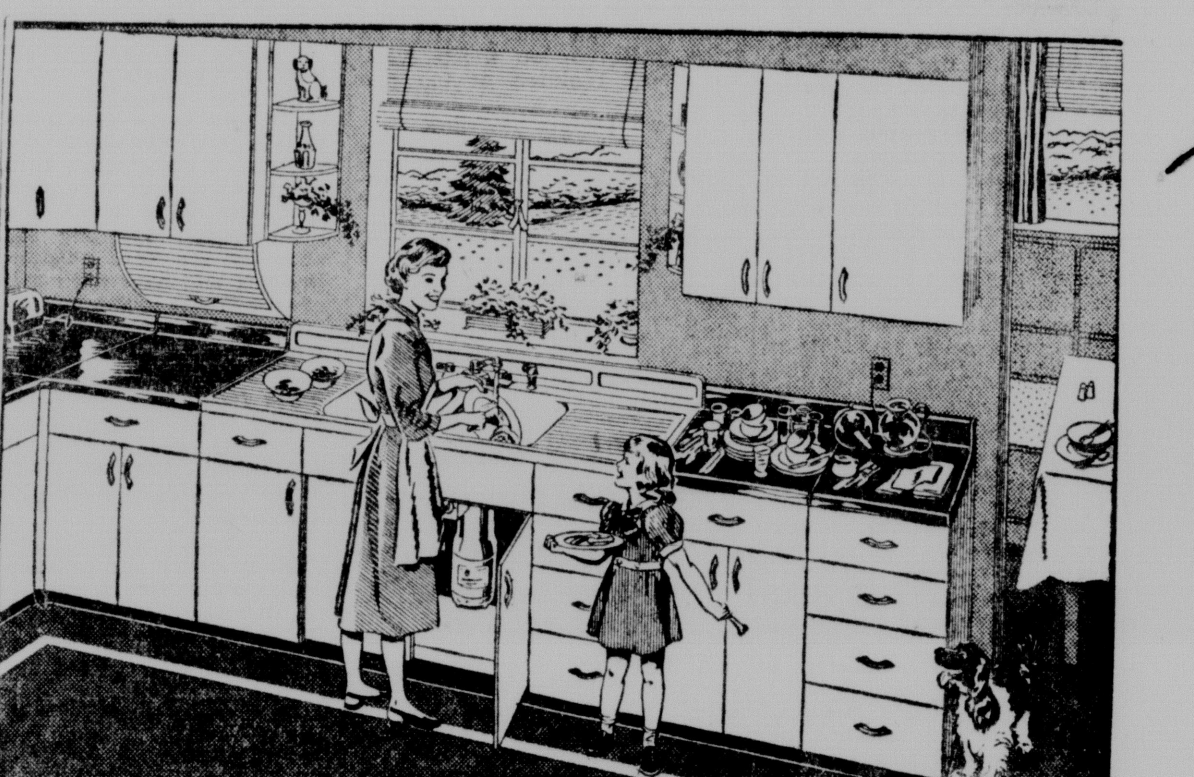

Also meeting here is the 82nd annual council of the Nebraska Episcopal diocese. The council was to elect its new officers for the coming year at an afternoon meeting.

Merger Recalled.

At the opening session last night, Bishop Harold R. Brinker of Omaha recalled the recent merger of the Nebraska diocese and the missionary of western Nebraska. He said the merger was accomplished with "practically no discernible tensions."

The sessions, at which 260 ministers and laymen are in attendance, will end tonight with a banquet at which Bishop C. Avery Mason of Dallas, Tex., and the Rev. George W. Morrel of Redlands, Calif., will be principal speakers.

Chapter 10
He drove into the camp, parked his car and helped Felicity out. He then turned to Tippy, who was scrambling out, a wary eye upon Garrett's stern face.

"Tippy," he said in an ostentatiously gentle voice as she would have sped past him, "I'd like a word with you, my girl."

Felicity whirled and her startled eyes met his.

Felicity looked down at the small, set face; if there had been one faint, tiny hint for sympathy, one plea for rescue in Tippy's face, one scared look in her wide dark eyes, Felicity should have broken and fought Garrett for her.

But the very hardness in that small face, the set of that rosebud mouth that was just a thin, pink line, warned Felicity that for Tippy's own good Tippy had to be punished.

Felicity drew a long, hard breath, straightened her shoulders, touched Tippy's shining curls with a fleeting caress and fled.

Tippy watched her go, and then Tippy lifted her face to Garrett's and said through clenched teeth, "You can spank the livin' daylights out of me, but I won't cry! You can't make me cry!"

She met his eyes steadily, without a hint of breaking. Her mouth was a stubborn line; her eyes were sulky, daring him; challenging his authority; yet admitting herself too small and weak to avoid his physical violence. And suddenly Garrett was conscious of being very much ashamed.

Meeting her stormy gaze, he knew the exact moment when Tippy realized that he was no longer blindly furious, and suddenly he was a little ashamed of his desire for physical violence.

That derisive gleam in her eye, that faint tugging of a smile at the corners of her mouth, stiffened his determination and quickened again his anger. He turned, swung open the door of his trailer, and said sternly, "Inside, youngster—and make it snappy."

Garrett stared down at her and then he thrust one hand in his pocket, the other through his tousled blonde locks and strode a pace or two away from her before he turned, dropped down on the couch, and said sternly, "Of course you know, Tippy, that you deserve a sound licking—don't you?"

"Then why don't you get started?" demanded Tippy boldly.

Garrett's face darkened and his hands reached out and jerked her to his knee. But the smallness and frailness of her body between his strong hands struck at him like a physical blow. "Hang it all, Tippy—I can't lick you!" he admitted his defeat ignominiously.

Tippy leaned confidently against him, her eyes quite sober. "I knew I had no business bringing the baby back, but—well, they were so mean about not letting us play on their old beach."

Garrett started at her in dawning horror.

"Then you stole the baby deliberately?" he demanded.

Tippy nodded, an impish smile tugging at the corners of her mouth. "To get even with that fat old man who called us ragamuffins and made us leave their beach," she acknowledged frankly.

"But, Tippy—that's terrible!" Garrett was all but speechless.

She nodded soberly. "I know it was, and I'm sorry—now, I do have to be punished, don't I?"

"You do indeed, Tippy, my imp," said Garrett grimly. "But much as I know you deserve it, I—well, I can't do it."

Tippy hesitated and then her better nature for a moment overrode the impishness of her and she offered shyly, "Well, I'd hate it like the dickens if my hair wasn't curly and if I had to wear shorts all the time and couldn't ever dress up and have people say, 'Why, what an exquisite child!'"

He sat staring at her for a moment, dumbfounded, before he shook his head and admitted, "You defeat me utterly, Tippy. Okay, then—it's short and your hair in a pigtail."

"How long, Garry?"

"A week?" Garry suggested weakly.

Her mouth drooped forlornly but she nodded. "A week, Garry—beginning today?"

"Beginning today," said Garrett.

She looked up at him for a long, sober moment. Then, without a word, she turned towards the doorway and Garrett followed her out into the sunlight.

"I know it had to be done, Garry," Felicity said shakily, "only she's so little—"

"If you mean did I spank her—no!" Garrett said. "She—well, she licked me, if you know what I mean."

Tippy came towards them. A Tippy whose shining curls had been braided into two tight pig-tails and whose small body was encased in faded shorts and a matching halter. She glared at each of the other children with a look that dared any comment, then stalked out of the trailer.

Felicity looked at Garrett, startled. And Garrett nodded, unsmiling.

"It was her own idea," he confessed. "She chose it as punishment when I turned yellow and couldn't spank her. She said it was the one thing she hated most, looking homely—and what could I do?"

Garrett's frown did not quite fade. Suddenly he spoke his thoughts aloud. "I'm very much afraid we're going to have trouble with her."

Felicity's eyes flew wide. Garrett realized that little betraying "we" as quickly as she did and, for a moment, they stared at each other, startled, realizing suddenly how things were drifting.

"Hey, Fliss, how's about it? I'm starved!" said Jason, and Felicity was able to tear her eyes away from Garrett's startled gaze and the spell was broken. But for the next few hours Felicity was a little shy of Garrett and a little self-conscious. And Garrett went away to his cabin with an uneasy feeling that he had stepped out beyond his depth and something must be done about it. Only, not right away, of course.

"Lilac Sunday"

Set For May 8

Mayor Clarence Miles Wednesday designated next Sunday "Lilac Sunday."

His proclamation:

Whereas, Lincoln is known as the Lilac city, and Sunday, May 8, will be Mothers day, it seems to be in order to designate Sunday, May 8, as "Lilac Sunday."

Now, therefore, I designate Sunday, May 8, 1949, as "Lilac Sunday" in the City of Lincoln and trust that the people will enjoy this fine flower throughout the city, and that by reason of the presence of so many lilacs, Mothers day may be more fittingly observed.

Berlin's Blockade Ends

In the international field the best news to reach the American people since the close of World War No. 2 came with the announcement Thursday that the Russian blockade of Berlin will be lifted May 12. At the same time a counter-blockade by the Western powers of the Soviet zone comes to an end. And 11 days later in Paris the council of foreign ministers gathers to consider questions relating to Germany, including matters connected with the joint occupation of the former German capital.

The happiest reflection peering out of the news columns was contained in the statement that the Berlin agreement was reached in a harmonious atmosphere after more than a year of tension and conflict, underlaid at times with the fear of actual war.

What emerges is a substantial triumph for the Western powers, a gratifying concession by Russia, and the even brighter promise that if approached in mutual spirit the burdens that have hung heavily upon this world can be solved peacefully. With peace secured the world then can turn its energies to long-neglected tasks of permanent rehabilitation.

V. M. Johnson

It was the unique privilege of V. M. Johnson, until his death Wednesday general manager of the Consumers Public Power district, serving more than 350 Nebraska communities with electricity, to gain unusual experience in the field of both public and private operation. Mr. Johnson started as an engineer with the private utilities. When the Nebraska grid system came into being, embracing the great hydro-electric developments, he was chosen to direct the distributing agency, the Consumers Public Power district, which distributes electricity to the individual consumer. He was a good engineer, an indefatigable worker, up early, at his desk late at night. In farsighted spirit he contributed to Nebraska's public power program.

This Troubled Sphere

Two oddities peeked out from the news columns last week. In Washington a spokesman for the Society of American Florists told a senate committee that powerful viruses are killing off the gladioli, carnations and chrysanthemums. He blamed it on new plant diseases, ailments heretofore unknown in the flower world. Then the bearded, 33-year-old Brooklyn giant, Paul Makushak, who was discovered hiding in a tiny, walled-in compartment explained he had taken himself out of the world because he didn't like the way it was being run.

A Symbol Of China

Some intensely human notes enter the impending communist occupation of China's great port city of Shanghai. In so many ways it embodies the tragedy of that age-old land of teeming millions. The world's fifth seaport in trade, one of the world's largest cities in population, six million, Shanghai was not open to trade until 1842, slightly more than 100 years ago. Previously, it had been an unimportant old walled city. In the last century Shanghai foreign settlements have brought to it representatives of 50 different nations, infused it with new life, broad streets, beautiful boulevards, imposing buildings. Its occupation by Chinese communists gives them a railroad terminus serving all points in China, widespread industry, China's best harbor. All of this which has made it great, ironically, condemns it in the eyes of the besieging armies. It is the product of foreign "capitalistic" influences.

What of Home Rule?

The city of Lincoln lives under a home rule charter.

It is difficult for anyone to say what congressional majorities had in mind when they wrote into the rent control extension act a provision loosely characterized as "home rule." Did it mean the state? Or, below the state was the congressional intention to leave the matter of rent controls to the wisdom of each individual community? Well, since the passage of the extension act by congress numbers of amusing episodes have taken place—that is, they would be amusing except for the fact that in the cases of thousands of home and apartment renters, and in other cases of home and apartment landlords there is a deep feeling that rank injustices prevail. Just one single illustration—out at Ogden a short time back apparently controls were off, and then controls were on because of an awakening that all the formalities involved had not been observed.

All along we have felt that the course of wisdom has suggested that the matter of continuing rent controls be left wholly to the judgment of municipal authorities, or to the city governments of more than 500 Nebraska municipalities. Undoubtedly there are scores of Nebraska cities where the demand for continuing rent controls has disappeared. At the same time it will be recognized there are at least some communities in this state where housing conditions are such that large numbers of renters feel the need of continuing restraint against possible precipitate rent increases.

That was the substance of the pleas of Mayor Clarence Miles of Lincoln and Mayor Glenn Cunningham of Omaha at the hearing on the bill to take controls off rents in Nebraska, a hearing which resulted in a vote to send the measure to the floor for consideration by the entire legislature.

"I think the matter should be decided by the city council," Mayor Miles was reported in the news columns as having said to the legislative committee. "I realize there are gross inequities and rank discrimination under the control law but I believe these can better be handled by the local governing bodies." Mayor Miles was supported by Omaha's spokesman, Mayor Cunningham, in these words:

"This is a local matter and something the legislature should not tackle. It would take weeks of hearing to bring out all of the evidence."

We cannot applaud these two views too strongly. They are sensible, sound, and if followed they may avert endless headaches for both landlord and tenant in Nebraska. This is such an intensely human problem. Food for the stomach is no more fundamental than a roof over the head for a man and his family. Anyone who is not aware of the injustices to the landlord in an era of rising taxes and mounting maintenance costs closes his eyes. Anyone who does not sense the plight of hundreds of young married couples, starting out life, particularly young G.I.'s and their wives, and other thousands in modest circumstances, pressed at this time to meet the simple necessities of living costs, does not know what is going on.

In this country we should not be snapping and quarreling at each other the long day through, month in and out. We should get together in fair spirit as neighbors and talk things over and reach fair agreements. We should try not only to see our own problem but we should preserve the American tradition of weighing the burdens of our fellow men.

That may be a great deal to ask, but it is the only real solution of the relationship between landlord and renter. It cannot be written into any law, inflexible and unyielding, any legislation that can be framed to cover a state or a nation, but it can be given better application if handled within the communities where these problems arise. What is really needed at this time is a conciliation agency within communities where a housing problem exists. That approach worked out magnificently in Nebraska on another occasion when sharply conflicting interests of lender and borrower required conciliation.

'TIS AND 'TAIN'T

PROLOGUE: This statement in humble spirit is drafted in the hope of ending endless controversy over an adequate appropriation for support of the University of Nebraska. It is in short, a statement to end statements. And why an apology, perhaps unprecedented, in search of peaceful waters?

The newspaper reader had another statement Wednesday from Tax Commissioner Phil Johnson, intended apparently to fortify his position that he had correctly estimated tuition and fee receipts of the University of Nebraska for the next biennium. That is where the present controversy started, and it is where it should end, so far as Mr. Johnson is concerned. But he was off not to a discussion of whether he made a $1,200,000 mistake in his estimate, instead he was concerned with University of Nebraska finances covering a 10-year period from 1939-49—a decade which signalled the end of the most destructive drouth this state ever experienced, ushered in the most prosperous years it has ever enjoyed.

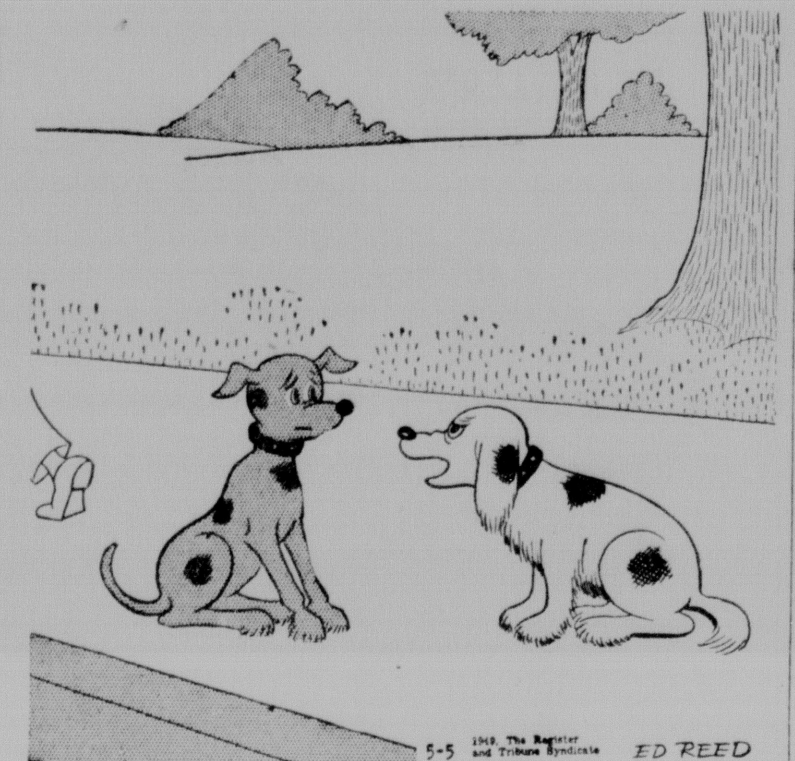

"'Tis and 'tain't" have a place in America, unless they get the upper hand. Full, honest discussion is good for the soul, a precious heritage of this fine country, but it can lose purpose and contribute only to confusion. From the beginning the only issue between Mr. Johnson and the administration of the University of Nebraska has been simply an issue of fact, which involves the future or deals, to some degree in other words, with unknowns. That issue goes to the matter of an accurate estimate of tuition and fees at the University of Nebraska over the next two years. Mr. Johnson has figured them at $4,600,000; the university, with full information, at $3,400,000. That is a difference of $1,200,000.

So Mr. Johnson plows new ground. In his latest statement he marches back 10 years to 1939. We assume that he knows, although he does not say so, that 1939 marked the end of the most protracted drouth this state ever experienced—beginning in 1934, not fully broken until the early '40s—a drouth that in its searing years had the people of Nebraska flat on their backs, their pocketbooks equally flat, and every activity of state government scraping the bottom in a day-by-day bread and butter existence. We assume

We know what we would do if we were shouldered with the responsibility of leadership, which falls upon Governor Peterson. We would explore the possibilities of reaching a satisfactory agreement. We would seek to conciliate conflicting views. We do not think this controversy represents stubbornness. The sensible course to pursue is a leadership that seeks to reconcile honest, conflicting views. After all, that is the basis of action on every matter calling for legislative action.

OFF THE RECORD

"Sit up!" he says. "Speak!" he says—and guess what he gives me. ONE STINKING PEANUT!

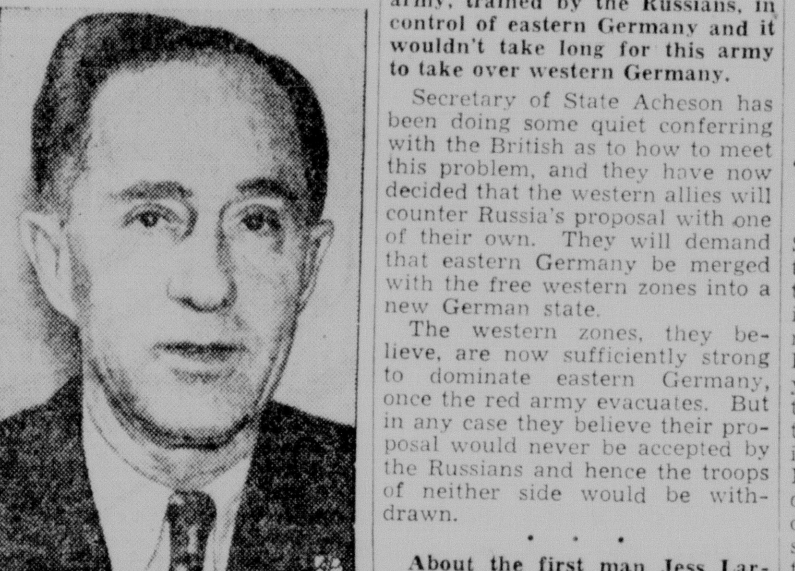

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The Truman program continues to be slowed down in the senate. This is partly because the president's key leaders have been torn apart by personal feuds or moved down by sickness and exhaustion.

Majority Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois has been in the hospital, worn out by the grueling grind of trying to keep democratic forces together. Before going to the hospital he had wrangled with Sen. Howard McGrath, chairman of the democratic national committee. McGrath, according to a complain Senator Lucas made to the White House, was trying to steal the spotlight as senate spokesman. And this in turn brought some sour private comments from McGrath about Lucas.

Meanwhile, two other senate figures have been in the hospital

PEARSON SAYS that the illness of two key senate figures, including Senate Secretary Leslie Biffle (above) has retarded progress of the Truman program in congress. Biffle's role has been to act as peacekeeper.

Senate Secretary Biffle and Majority Secretary "Skeeter" Johnson. The democrats have leaned heavily upon Biffle to keep peace between the senate and the White House, and Biffle's office has been a rendezvous where democratic troubles were patched up over a glass of bourbon.

Before going to the hospital Biffle himself clashed with the senate's president pro tem, Senator McKellar of Tennessee. On the more optimistic side, however, many democratic committee chairmen have plugged ahead with legislation, and several key measures, such as federal-aid-to-education, are all set for debate.

British Foreign Minister Ernie Bevin is a lot more pleased than Trygve "Trigger" Lie over the inclusion of Norway in the Atlantic pact—and Lie told him so when Bevin was in this country for the pact signing.

Bevin was jubilant over what he called the "brave stand" taken by Norway in joining the pact despite the persistent neutrality of Sweden. Meeting Lie, who is now secretary general of the United Nations, Bevin said: "By this act you have moved closer to us. We feel toward you as we would toward one of our own dominions."

To which Trygve Lie, with heavy sarcasm, replied, "thank you."

NOTE—Lie says privately he would not have come running to Washington, if he had been Norwegian foreign minister—as he was once. He would have waited for the possible common action of all three Scandinavian countries.

President Truman heard some straight—from the—shoulder advice on the question of Negro education the other day from a southern congressman who gets around in a wheelchair. The White House visitor was 38-year-old Congressman Charles Bennett of Florida.

Bennett served 58 months as an infantryman, won the coveted silver star for bravery, came out a captain, his legs crippled by polio contracted while fighting with Philippine guerrillas.

However, this doesn't interfere with Bennett's legislative interests, one of which is burning zeal to improve educational opportunities for southern Negroes.

"The federal government can't be proud of the way it has failed to deal with illiteracy among the Negroes," the young Floridian told Truman. "What many people forget is that the government countenanced slavery before the Civil war. In fact, a lot of the slave trade was carried on by northerners."

"Then, when slavery was abolished by fire and sword—"

"You remind me of my mother," broke in the president, who comes from Confederate stock on his maternal side.

"Well, I don't mean to be wavy—"

DIAGONAL PARKING

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Well, the people of Lincoln have done it again! First they let the city spend money on parallel parking, then more to repair the mix-up. But best of all, they voted it out. Now that vote is under court attack. Certainly the people should stand up for their rights on an election. If their votes don't mean anything to the city, then why vote at all?

READER.
NOTE: Naturally the courts are open to any referendum test although personally the editor felt that vote represented exactly what the reader says it did. Yet the right to court test is clearly enjoyed by any citizen.

POOR BOY'S EDUCATION

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Congratulations upon your splendid editorial regarding the city auditorium. You have certainly aided Lincoln in the most forward-looking step the city ever took. So, too, were your recent editorials re: Poor boys and girls seeking an education in our university and schools. The real—but fast disappearing—art of foundational, fundamental, creative and constructive thinking has been highly interesting, instructive and inspirational. In these recent expressions you "rang the bell" and have pointed the way to a finer city and state. Many thousands of readers whom you never see or know and from whom you never hear are grateful to you for such help and encouragement.

BRUTUS HISTORICUS.

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I appreciated your editorial of recent date. It was very fair. EARL J. LEE, Speaker of the Legislature.

NOTE: The editor has unwittingly placed a wrong impression upon comment by Speaker Lee. I owed him the explanation made and was happy to write the editorial to which the speaker refers.

"GOOD NEIGHBORS"

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Your editorials in behalf of the University of Nebraska, particularly the "Good Neighbor" editorial, are as fine as I have ever read in any newspaper. Of course, I am naturally prejudiced toward your point of view. Even so, these editorials are setting an extremely high standard of journalistic statesmanship; a fact, I think, I would have to admit were I opposing to the principle you are defending. Any time the leadership of the state injures or curtails its major cultural institutions, it is indeed heading for trouble. My best wishes for your continued success.

W. K. BEGGS, Professor, School Administration, The University of Nebraska.

NATIONAL GUARD PROPOSAL

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: All members of the Nebraska National Guard here in Lincoln join me in expressing to you and The Lincoln Star our sincere appreciation for the powerful and effective support you gave our proposal pertaining to leasing of city lands which was so overwhelmingly supported by the Lincoln electors. It is very encouraging to us to receive this stamp of approval.

BRIG. GEN. GUY N. HENNINGER, The Adjutant General, The University of Nebraska.

ADEQUATE SOLUTIONS

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Your editorial of last Wednesday really struck home to four Nebraska Wesleyan students just returning from an International Relations club conference in Denver.

The strongest impressions we received at the conference seemed to be reaffirmed in your remarks. We were shamefacedly impressed by Nebraska's apparent lag. The smug complacency seems to have resulted in a lag of about thirty years behind more progressive states.

It is disheartening to us to find how remote and out of contact with its neighbors Nebraska has been. We are happy to see that the progressive elements of the state press have at last begun to analyze what is wrong with Nebraska.

Your explanation that Nebraska's young people are leaving because they do not care to live in a "state of lost hope" seems to be a good analysis of the situation. The attitude among some of our successful elders seems to be that if the young people don't like the state, they can get out. They are Nebraska is losing its population, its youth, and its vitality. Many people do not seem to realize that they inevitably shape the attitudes of their youth. Penny-pinching policies regarding education and cow-like content with existing conditions hardly seem to us an adequate solution.

The people of Nebraska are responsive to worthy causes; what is really needed is a good thinking out of these problems in the press. We see hope in the splendid attitudes of the university officials and the progressive segments of the legislature and press. Congratulations. Keep up the good work!

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan is tall, balding, looking a little like an overworked college professor. On his high-domed head in recent weeks has poured a deluge of criticism that seems to be growing rather than decreasing in volume.

The reason of course, is the Brannan plan to support farm prices with government subsidies that are intended to make it possible at the same time for consumers to eat more at lower prices. Not since the beginning of the new deal have so many dead cats and overripe tomatoes been aimed at one target.

A lot of the attack comes from sideline critics who take it for granted that the Brannan plan is a gimmick dreamed up by its author for one sinister purpose or another. Brannan is deliberately trying to undermine the free enterprise system. Or, he is putting forward a plan to catch the farm vote.

This type of criticism is, in my opinion, essentially unfair. It is unfair because it fails to take into account the very difficult spot in which Brannan finds himself. Wheat farmers in this country will produce this year twice as much wheat as the American public can consume. That is a fact which has staggering implications. With the price of hogs hovering close to the support level of $16.50, Brannan thinks that any day now he may have to go into the market to buy hog products. Not so long ago hogs were $30.

If a republican were sitting in the chair of secretary of agriculture, he would be faced with exactly the same problems that confront Brannan. The republican secretary would be under pressure from farmers all over the country to come up with a "solution" just as Brannan has been under unremitting pressure since the first day congress met. That is a fact which Brannan's critics largely ignore.

Another basic fact is overlooked by the attackers. That is the remarkable increase in productivity per acre in most crops. New hybrid seeds, new fertilizers, new insecticides, new and improved farm techniques—all these things produce two ears of corn where only one grew before.

To attack the author of the Brannan plan is not enough. The critics should feel an obligation to supply some of the answers. To say that supply and demand must run its course even though it means ruin is not enough either. (Copyright, 1949, by U. Feat. Synd. Inc.)

Welfare Meet To Hear Talk On Infirmities

... Of Aged Persons

Four speakers are scheduled to address the Nebraska Welfare association Friday. The association opens its 32nd annual conference Thursday night in Lincoln.

Opening the morning session at the Cornhusker hotel, Miss Edna Nicholson of the Institute of Medicine, Chicago, speaks to the conference on "Aged and Chronically Ill—a Challenge."

Miss Nicholson is well known in public health circles and is a special lecturer at Northwestern university. She has written numerous magazine articles on the subject of the chronically ill.

Medical Trends.
Later in the morning, Dr. Roy Fouts, Omaha, American Medical association vice-president, and Dr. Arthur J. Offerman, Omaha, Blue Shield plan president, will discuss the general subject, "Modern Trends in Medical Care."

This will be followed by a forum discussion. Discussants will be Donald Duncan, Lincoln; Elsie Ruda, Lincoln; Josephine Albrecht, Omaha; Philip Vogt, Omaha; Mrs. Judith Whitaker and Dr. Frank Gluck, representatives in various fields of public health and social work.

"Balancing Social Legislation and Public Economy" will be the subject of the afternoon session. It will be opened by Bernard S. Gradwohl, Lincoln attorney, serving as moderator, with brief remarks on "How We Got This Way."

Robert Armstrong, president of Omaha Association of Taxpayers, and Roderick Crance, chairman of Omaha university's department of economics, will be the featured speakers.

Forum discussants will be Senators Louis A. Holmes, Grand Island; John S. Callan, Odell; Clifford N. Ogden, Omaha, and Fay Wood, Seward.

Dr. James S. Chubb, pastor of First Methodist church, Grand Island, is the principal speaker at the conference's opening session Thursday, 8 p. m. at the Cornhusker hotel. He will speak on "The Responsibility of the Individual in a Democracy."

Rent Decontrol Bill Given "Green Light"

... Measure Sent To Floor By 7-2 Vote

The legislative government committee after a four hour public hearing before a capacity crowd Wednesday voted seven to two to report out to general file a bill which will decontrol rents in Nebraska.

The bill, LB 538, was amended by the committee, however, to provide that the decontrol would become effective on or before Feb. 1, 1950, instead of Nov. 1, 1949, as the measure formerly provided.

Appearing in favor of the proposed measure were about a dozen landlords or representatives of real estate boards. Opposing the bill were Sen. J. V. Benesch and John Adams, sr., both of Omaha, the mayors of Lincoln and Omaha, three representatives of labor unions, six representatives of state veterans' organizations and a few private citizens.

Tells Income Loss.

Guy C. Chambers, Lincoln attorney representing Lincoln people "interested in the passage of the bill," led off in the fight by the proponents of the measure. He stated that 80 per cent of the landlords owning rental property have an income of less than $5,000 a year, and that many are losing money because of rent controls.

He cited the case of one Lincoln apartment house owner who has lost $1,388 on his property in the last year, $692 the year before and $198 the year before that. Meanwhile, he said, one tenant of this particular landlord is drawing an income of $400 a month.

Controls Hit.

Paul C. Huston, realtor and member of the Grand Island Real Estate board, told the committee that there is a definite need for more rental housing, but this will not be obtained as long as controls are in effect. He stated that Nebraska has adequate laws governing tenancy and needs no federal controls.

"Property owners have been forced to subsidize tenants," stated A. C. Kennedy, Omaha realtor. "Rent control is the major factor of the housing shortage. If controls were removed in Nebraska, rents will go up moderately, forcing single persons, now the sole occupants of apartments to double up, thereby opening vacancies for persons with families."

No Shortage Here?

Edwin L. Stratton, Hastings apartment house owner, urged the legislature to "take the first step toward restoring freedom to a segment of society." He stated that veterans will "get relief" more quickly if rents are freed.

"There is actually no shortage of housing in Lincoln," said Donald Wood, Lincoln realtor. "The Lincoln situation is better than most." He added that 6,370 new family units have been opened in Lincoln since 1940, and that this was more than enough to handle the city's increased population.

Pete Marchetti, representing the Omaha Small Property Owners association, charged that "politicians are responsible for the existence of rent controls because there are more tenants than landlords."

"In Nebraska we should be able to trust our citizens with freedom and believe that they will not abuse that freedom," he stated. Calling for a show of hands among those that attended the hearing that were landlords, most of the people in the filled east senate chamber responded.

Many Appear.

Others appearing in favor of the bill were Mrs. Jacob Hansen, Omaha, Art Baldwin, Fremont realtor, Cecil Orton, South Sioux City and E. J. Sias, Lincoln. The main arguments presented by the proponents were that decontrol would lessen the housing shortage, that landlords are losing money under present controls, and that there is no need for controls, anyway, because the emergency condition caused by the war has ceased to exist.

leading off for the opposition, stated that, "the legislature is the wrong place to come with this question." He stated that there are three alternatives under the new federal rent control act, either the state may abolish all rent control, or may keep the federal law and leave the decisions up to the locality concerned.

Local Problem.

"There is no necessity for a state law when there is a local option," he contended. "Let the problem be settled by the municipalities where the local conditions are better known."

"There just isn't enough housing to go around," Mayor Glenn Cunningham of Omaha stated. "This is a local matter and not a matter for the legislature to tackle in this particular form. Omaha is perfectly capable to handle this problem on its own."

"Every city has its own peculiar housing problems," Mayor Clarence Miles of Lincoln told the committee. "Therefore it should be left up to the local governing body as to how their particular problem shall be handled."

"There is a shortage of housing in this city of Lincoln," he stated. "Maybe there will be plenty of houses if controls are lifted but this is a matter that must be determined to extensive studies on the local level."

Gordon Preble, Omaha, president of the Nebraska federation of labor, stated, "I do not represent the state organization because I do not know the housing situation in other parts of the state, nor do these senators."

Admitting that there are undoubtedly hardship cases on the part of landlords under controls, he argued that the number of hardship cases on the part of tenants would exceed this many times if a blanket decontrolling the entire state were passed.

Larry Gaughen, Veterans of Foreign Wars departmental commander, pointed out to the committee that under the federal law landlords are now allowed a 30 per cent profit on small properties and up to 25 per cent on large properties.

He stated that the population in controlled areas has grown considerably since controls went on in 1942, and that available housing has failed to keep up with the demand.

Cites Huskerville.

"If there is no housing shortage in Lincoln, why are 3,000 residents living in temporary housing in Huskerville?" he demanded. He also pointed out that controls could not be a deterrent to new construction, as contended by the proponents of the bill, because new construction has been uncontrolled since 1947.

Francis Weishapel, Norfolk, pointed out that 66 eviction complaints were made in Norfolk within three days after controls were lifted.

Other veterans' organization representatives appearing against the bill included James L. Cooper, departmental adjutant of the V.F.W., Harold Voss, Lincoln, V.F.W. state housing chairman, R. C. Patterson, representing the American Legion, Leonard Owen of the Lincoln V.F.W. post, and Earl Wright, representing the Disabled American Veterans association.

Others opposing the measure were Frank Cronin, regional director of the C.I.O. and Paul Scott, Lincoln property owner. In other action, the committee voted out to general file LB 540, changing the composition of the legislative council, and providing that all legislators shall be a member of the council.

Some Cuts In Budget Restored

Committee Votes Offer Appropriation Bill Amendments

Budget committee of the legislature voted Wednesday to submit amendments to the appropriation bill which will correct some oversights and make some departmental increases.

The old-fashioned "bargaining budget" is apparently a thing of the past in most departments. No longer are high figures of need submitted in the knowledge that reductions will be made by the legislature to show the home folks that they are "economy minded."

It was also made clear to the committee that laws passed by the legislature cost money. Carrying out of these laws often affect more than the department charged with administration.

Restore Judicial Items.

The judicial branch of government which had been reduced by the committee $12,000 below the governor's estimate proved an illustrative example. After explanations, the cuts were voted restored.

Justices John Yeager and Adolph Wenke described how they had been named a committee to work with Clerk George Turner to estimate minimum costs of operation and still carry out duties imposed by law. Their estimates were then checked and revised by the entire court.

The office of reviser of statutes was reduced by $7,000. Figures were submitted showing printing costs for the supplements required by legislative action. A record number of pages will have to be printed because of the long bill recodifying the school laws and other long laws.

State Auditor Ray Johnson called attention to the fact that the number of warrants he has to write have doubled since he took office and now number 30,000 monthly. Gas tax refunds to farmers, he said, have increased six times and he predicted further increases.

"I can operate on the budget allowed," Johnson explained, "but it is doubtful if I can get warrants out in time to meet discount dates and have other warrants delivered on time. I want you to know the situation and take the responsibility if we are unable to meet growing demands. He was given a $7,850 increase, $2,500 of which will come from gas tax collection charges.

The budget failed to include $100,000 authorized by the present session to care for tubercular patients kept in county hospitals because of inadequate facilities at the state hospital at Kearney. This will be added by amendment.

The attorney general was given an additional $6,000 to be used if necessary in connection with threatened litigation due to building of the Glendo dam. Real estate commission and secretary of state were given relatively small increases.

Meet On Construction Needs.

A special committee consisting of Chairman Callan and Sens. Victor Anderson and O. H. Person will meet with the board of control to determine new construction needs at state institutions and how much of the building fund levy can be used for maintenance.

"This legislature is behind the people in much of its thinking," Sen. Lester Anderson said in pointing out that the intent of the last legislature in passing the 1.1 mill was to provide new building to make up for the neglect of the past 15 to 25 years. He said the adding of the words "repairs and maintenance" came as a sort of compromise.

Chairman Callan said the legislature must think of the payer of property taxes and suggested that the legislature will have to decide policy on the use of the building fund.

Mrs. Harold Prince of the board of control responded that the board not only had to think of the taxpayer but also of the 8,119 wards of the state entrusted to their care. It was pointed out that the number has increased to that figure from 7,804 in July, 1947, and that best estimates are there will be 8,875 by the end of the biennium.

Repairs requested by institution superintendents would use all of the building fund, had they been approved by the board, Chairman W. H. Diers said, in pointing out that original requests of $19,000,000 were cut $3,000,000 before the budget was submitted to the governor.

"There is only one way that we can operate under the present budget and that is for $695,630 to come out of the building fund," Diers told the committee. "Our budget was prepared on minimum needs to take care of wards of the state and safeguard our investment for future years."

Supt. Wayne O. Reed appeared before the committee to ask a reduction in one budget item and an increase in another. Law changes this session he said would permit reduction from $60,000 to $32,000 in the tuition of children at military posts.

The request of $35,000 for the nurses bureau was restored from the reduction to $30,670, when it was pointed out it would be impossible to operate on that figure and give increases in salary authorized by the present session of the legislature.

The committee also decided to recommend the addition of an additional field man to the board of school lands and funds to speed up reappraisal of school lands.

600 LANCASTER BOYS, GIRLS ENROLLED 4-H ... Tops Last Year

County Agent V. H. Petersen announced that over 600 boys and girls in Lancaster county are now enrolled in 4-H clubs.

The figure is more than last year's final total enrollment, he said, and some new clubs are still being organized. Clubs organized recently include:

The Helpful Homemakers, led by Mrs. Clarence Patterson, Route 3, Lincoln and Mrs. Harry Heston, Waverly.

The Cornhusker Lassies led by Dorothy Price and Mrs. Harvey Kettelhut, both of Bennet.

The West Lincoln Livewires led by Roy Anderson, Route 8, Lincoln and Lyle Barry, Route 2, Lincoln.

The College View Powerboys, led by Dale Buys, 348 So. 46th, and Vinton Cheuvront, 327 So. 46th.

A garden club led by Mrs. Fred Claus, Route 23, Lincoln and Mrs. Clinton Baum, 2326 West.

A garden club led by Dr. Richard Gray, state hospital, Lincoln.

A sewing club led by Mrs. V. P. Kliner, 3440 South St. and Mrs. L. C. Bryant, 2923 South St.

A cooking club led by Mrs. E. L. Westerman, 2001 Jefferson and Mrs. Ardell Robinson, both of Lincoln.

The Snip, Snap and Sew club led by Ruth Greiner, 925 So. 37th.

The Four-Leaf Clover club led by Mrs. P. L. Wood, 4542 Meredith and Mrs. I. V. Wood, 2923 So. 46th St.

The Trail Riders led by Mrs. Donald Hennkamp of Hickman.

This is the first riding horse club to be organized in this county.

Study By University Shows Most Normal People Are Lopsided

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—Are you lopsided?

Then you're probably normal.

A New Mexico university anthropology class has just completed a study of the physical characteristics of 200 men selected from the student body at random.

Here are some of the findings: Most of the right-handed men's noses tilted to the right, their right shoulders sagged and there was more flesh on the right side of their faces.

Most of the men claimed a slightly greater height than the tape measure proved.

Dr. J. S. Chubb Named Welfare Group Speaker ... Annual Conference

Dr. James S. Chubb, pastor of the First Methodist church, Grand Island, will address the 52nd annual conference of the Nebraska Welfare association on "Responsibility of the Individual in a Democracy" Thursday, 8 p. m., at the Cornhusker.

Clinton Belknap, chairman of the program committee for the

DR. JAMES S. CHUBB

1949 conference, said Dr. Chubb is scheduled to speak at the opening session.

Dr. Chubb has been a leader of "Y" camps and young peoples' groups. He has held a pastorate in Massachusetts and served as professor of bible and philosophy at Southwestern college and as pastor of the College church at Baker university, Kansas.

State Sen. Louis A. Holmes of Grand Island will preside at the meeting.

132 New Car Dealers Favor Road Program ... Statewide Poll

E. F. DuTeau, president of the Nebraska New Car Dealer's association was authorized by 22 directors of the association to make public the results of a heretofore confidential poll concerning the attitude of new car dealers on the governor's highway program.

DuTeau, in a prepared statement, pointed out that the association's office had mailed 523 ballots to the group's membership and that a total of 178 ballots had been returned. Of these, 132 favored the governor's road program while 46 were against and five undecided. It is perhaps, said DuTeau, the most far reaching public opinion poll on this issue that has been taken by any group and the results of this poll were obtained from new car dealers residing in all parts of the state and representing 82 towns or villages of Nebraska.

The directors of the association who met in Grand Island Tuesday instructed DuTeau to accept the personal invitation of President Truman to attend the National Safety conference scheduled for June 1, 2 and 3 in Washington, D. C.

Gibbon C. O. Sentenced As Draft Violator

Act 'Detriment To Country,' Former Student Contends

A 26-year-old Gibbon, Neb., man charged with violation of the selective service act, pleaded nolo contendere and was sentenced to one year and a day imprisonment by Federal Judge John W. Delehant.

William G. Heusel waived trial by jury and appointment of counsel by the court before a crowded courtroom in Federal District court Wednesday. He had been indicted previously by a grand jury for "knowingly failing and refusing to present himself and submit to registration" for selective service in Hamilton county Aug. 31, 1948, and continuing to refuse to register.

Heusel had presented a mimeographed statement which was handed to the court, in which he stated he opposed registration because the law is "wholly bad" for the nation and for the world.

"I firmly believe in the non-violent way of life exemplified by Jesus and Ghandi. My reason tells me that conscription is a detriment to my country," he stated.

Law Unconstitutional.

"I would suggest that the law is unconstitutional. It threatens freedom of religion by defining the religious position necessary to be classified as a conscientious objector to war. The government, which exists to represent and to serve the people, has never been given the arbitrary power to forbid criticism of its laws nor to set up a state religion."

Heusel's pastor and a friend appeared in his behalf, and presented petitions to the court against the draft act.

In his opinion, Judge Delehant stated that unless the court could be persuaded that the statute is unconstitutional, it must enforce the law as written. "I do have a tremendous sympathy for anyone whose conscience, sincerely and truly arrived at, compels him to disregard the laws of his country and state," Judge Delehant said.

Heusel had attended the University of Nebraska for two and a half years.

No Takers For Crisp Dollar Bill Pinned On Bulletin Board

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(AP)—Diogenes, the crusty old Greek philosopher, searched all over the place for an honest man.

He should have gone to Rutgers university.

Yesterday a crisp dollar bill was pinned to a "lost and found" notice on a campus bulletin board. The notice read: "Found in a telephone booth. Loser please take."

At last report, the dollar bill was still there.

Utah Governor Denies Return Ex-Lincoln Girl

Deputy County Sheriff Merle Karnopp, who left last week for Salt Lake City, Utah, to return a girl wanted here on a state charge of aiding and abetting procurement of merchandise under false pretenses, returned Tuesday empty-handed.

Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah, serving his first term in office, denied County Attorney Frederick H. Wagener's extradition request. The governor wrote Wagener the "crime is alleged to be her first and the amount involved is small."

The girl, formerly of Lincoln, was implicated in the alleged offense by another Lincoln girl, who was recently sentenced to one-to-three years in the reformatory for girls at York, Neb., after pleading guilty to obtaining merchandise under false pretenses.

L.T.&T. Bond Issue Approved

Issue and sale of first mortgage bonds in the principal amount of $10,000,000 by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company was approved by the state railway commission Wednesday.

The commission also dismissed at the request of the applicant, the Burlington railroad application to discontinue operation of passenger trains No. 31 and 32 between Bridgeport and Northport.

Postal Returns $16,451 Higher Than Year Ago

Postal receipts in Lincoln continued their upward trend in April, Postmaster O. E. Jerner reported when the local post office did a total business $16,451.87 higher than in April of 1948.

Receipts for April, 1949, were $133,478.32 as compared to receipts of $117,026.45 for the same month the year before.

Postal savings declined, both in number of accounts opened and in total deposits. On April 30 the total on deposit in Lincoln under the government savings plan was $6,219,149 as compared to $6,497,755 on April 30, 1948.

Issue Approved

Issue and sale of first mortgage bonds in the principal amount of $10,000,000 by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company was approved by the state railway commission Wednesday.

Bond Sellers Urged To Meet "1949 Quota"

200 Workers Honored By Governor Peterson

About 200 Nebraskans engaged in the current saving bond drive were guests of Governor Val Peterson Wednesday night at a dinner at the Cornhusker hotel.

Governor Peterson thanked all those who worked for the bond drives during the war and immediately following. He then urged the group to do its utmost to meet the quota this year, and if possible to equal the 1947 record.

According to Governor Peterson, the record set by Nebraska in that year is still the nation's record.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Frank McDermott of Omaha, a past chairman of the state bond drive. Mr. McDermott spoke of the economics of savings bonds.

Widen Circle Of Wealth.

"The circle of wealth must continue to be widened, continually, if we are to remain free," McDermott stated. He then told of the need of getting the bonds "out of the banks and insurance companies into the hands of the people."

"It is the only immediate remedy for obviating the concentration of wealth," he said.

Special guests for the evening were: Lt. Gov. Charles Warner, Sen. Earl Lee, Otis Melton, Leeland Hall and Lloyd Earhart.

Orville Chatt, formerly of Tekamah, Neb., served as master of ceremonies. Chatt was the first state chairman of the saving bond drive in Nebraska.

New Extension Granted Lines Anti-Trust Suit

... Await ICC Ruling

An order granting an extension of time for defendants to file pleadings and objections in the government's anti-trust action pending here against 47 Western railroads was signed by Federal Judge John W. Delehant Wednesday afternoon.

The new extension of time in the six year old action, allows rail attorneys until 45 days after the Interstate Commerce Commission rules to enter their objections.

The commission is scheduled to rule on the rate-making activities of the lines which is one of the main issues in the action of the Justice department.

Also defendants in the suit are two railroad associations, including the American Association of Railroads. They are charged with the violation of the anti-trust laws by restraining trade and fixing rates.

Probation Given Doctor On Federal Narcotics Charge

Dr. Frederick William Blumer, Lincoln physician, was placed on three year probation by Federal Judge John W. Delehant Wednesday, on a charge of violation of the federal narcotic drug act.

Arraigned in Federal district court on a count of failing to preserve a duplicate of the drug purchase order for narcotics, Dr. Blumer entered a plea of nolo contendere. Four other counts in the government's complaint were dropped by James L. Brown, assistant district attorney.

Judge Delehant ordered the three year probationary period after suspending sentence of 100 fine and one year and one day imprisonment. Dr. Blumer was indicted by a grand jury in Omaha last January.

Carson Seeks Amendment Limit Terms Of State Officials To Four Years

Sen. Hugh Carson, Ord., will seek to have LB 57 amended to provide that the term of governor and constitutional officers be for four year terms with the governor being limited to one term and the other officers to two consecutive terms, he said Wednesday.

He would make the change effective at the election of 1954 on officers taking office in 1955.

The bill at present provides for a constitutional amendment to make the terms of members of the legislature four years with half of the membership being elected each two years.

"It's time that we had state officials working for the people rather than spending their time in office trying to work the people to return them to office," Sen. Carson said. "This will permit the governor to devote four years to looking after the interests of the state."

"I had considered adding some other members to the bill but probably the next legislature will make them appointive offices which also probably would add to efficiency. We must find some way to end inefficiency and waste in government."

Brainard Youth Given 18-Month Federal Sentence

Louis A. Mergle, jr., of Brainard, was sentenced to imprisonment for 18 months Wednesday by Federal Judge John W. Delehant for violation of probation.

Arraigned in federal court, the youth pleaded guilty to the three-count violation charge. It stated he had been using liquor excessively, had stolen and wrecked a car at Brainard; and had left the state without permission of the probation officer.

Mergle had been placed on probation and his sentence suspended after he was found guilty of forging an endorsement on a government bond and cashing it in September, 1945. His violation cancelled the probation and brought the sentence into effect.

IDEAS FOR MAY LUNCHEONS

What to serve for springtime luncheons? The salad course is the easiest to pursue. The salad should be made of choice vegetables or fruits—but do see that you have an especially good dressing for it and, if possible, a hot bread accompaniment. Here's a salad dressing that's a little different—delicious with either vegetables or fruit.

CREAMY FRENCH DRESSING
Ingredients: 2 cups salad oil, 1/4 cup unspiced molasses, 1/2 cup cider vinegar, 3 tablespoons catchup, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 teaspoons finely grated onion or onion juice, 1/2 egg white (unbeaten), 1 peeled clove garlic.

Method: Put the salad oil, molasses, vinegar, catchup, salt, paprika, mustard, onion, and egg white in a mixing bowl and beat vigorously with rotary beater until thoroughly blended. Cut garlic clove in two, add to dressing and allow to stand in it; impale garlic on toothpick for easy removal before serving.

For sophisticated dessert choose the Mock Baba Strawberry Ring pictured here. You can serve it without the strawberries if you like—and it will be delicious, too. In the latter case, however, be sure to accompany it with sweetened whipped cream.

MOCK BABA STRAWBERRY RING
Ingredients: 2 eggs (separated), 1/3 cup sugar, 1/3 cup sifted cake flour, few grains salt, 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, rum syrup, strawberries, whipped cream.

Method: Beat egg whites stiff; add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Beat yolks until extremely thick; fold into egg whites. Mix and sift flour, salt and cream of tartar; fold in gradually. Add vanilla. Bake in greased ring mold (9 inches in diameter) or a small size coffee cake pan, in a moderate (350° F.) oven for 25 to 35 minutes. Pour the following rum syrup over the cake:

Mix 1/3 cup sugar and 1/3 cup water together in a saucepan. Stir over low heat until sugar dissolves; simmer about 3 to 5 minutes. Cool slightly. Add 1/2 teaspoon rum flavoring. Fill center of cake with sliced sweetened strawberries and whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Wesleyan Queen, Prince Will Be Presented Friday

Presentation of a student prince and May queen and tapping of members into two honorary societies will highlight traditional May day activities at Nebraska Wesleyan university Friday.

Planting of the traditional sprig of ivy will feature the morning activities and the annual inter-fraternity-inter-sorority sing will bring afternoon festivities to a close.

The morning program will get under way at 10 a. m. when Ed Kugler, Creston senior, delivers the senior class oration. Senior Class President LeRoy Yanne, Lincoln, will pass down the senior cap and gown to Junior Class President Bob Bushnell, Wilcox.

Identity of the May queen, student prince, and their attendants, will be kept secret until the May day procession begins. New members of Blue Key and Cardinal Key, national honoraries, will be tapped in traditional fashion at the height of the afternoon festivities.

Another highlight will be presentation of the winner of the Women's Athletic association poetry contest.

Flowers Stolen—Mrs. Melvin D. Guley, 3923 H street, told police someone picked about 150 tulip blossoms at her home early Tuesday evening. She estimated the value of the flowers at $25.

ANTI-MASS PICKETING BILL PASSED

Unicameral Vote On Final Reading 22-11

The anti-mass picketing bill, bitterly opposed by organized labor, passed on final reading in the legislature Wednesday.

It is described in the bill as "any form of picketing in which there are more than two pickets at any one time within either 50 feet of the entrance of the premises being picketed or within 50 feet of any other picket or pickets."

Penalty for violation is a fine of $25 to $100 or jail sentence of not more than three months.

Vote on the bill was:

Spine Surgery Is Advancing

Dr. Sheldon Tells Medical Association

OMAHA—(AP)—Advancements in the field of low-back surgery involving the spine were reported Wednesday by Dr. Keith W. Sheldon of Lincoln, Neb.

He told the Nebraska State Medical association that of 109 such cases on which an adequate follow-up was possible six months after surgery, 88 per cent had achieved "good to excellent" recovery, eight per cent "fair or inconclusive" and only four per cent "poor."

In another report, Dr. Wilbur A. Muchlig of Omaha said a person undergoing a brain tumor operation now has better than one chance in four of regaining good health.

The Omahan quoted statistics issued by the University of Michigan on 257 brain tumor removals. Delegates were warned of difficulties in diagnosing brain tumors because symptoms resemble those of other diseases.

LOBSTER DINNER
AUGUSTA, Me.—An American Legion dinner menu at Omaha Friday night is going to feature lobsters as the main course. A hundred Maine lobsters, plus instructions for opening and eating, will be sent to Omaha for a dinner to launch the campaign of Omaha's James Green for commander of the American Legion, the Maine development commission said.

Parking Stall Change-Over Work Stopped

Police Chief Joe Carroll said Wednesday morning that work had stopped on changing parallel parking stalls to diagonal parking in the downtown area.

The work was stopped following Carroll's receipt Tuesday afternoon of a restraining order by District Judge Harry R. Ankeny.

The temporary restraining order was the result of a suit filed Tuesday morning in District court asking a permanent injunction against the city to restrain them from changing the parking back to a 35 degree angle in accordance with the terms of an initiative petition passed by Lincoln voters in the April primary election.

Ferguson claims the wording of the ballot was "misleading and confusing," that the ordinance was an administrative matter and not for the voters to decide, and that the change would create a dangerous traffic problem.

Chief Carroll said the work will remain halted until the restraining order is lifted. Only street changes on Q and S streets, and they will remain diagonal parking as they are now until the court orders differently, the chief said.

Mrs. Dan Meyer Elected Head Trinity WSCS

Mrs. Dan Meyer was elected and installed as president of the Trinity Methodist church's Women's Society of Christian Service Thursday afternoon at a luncheon and meeting held at the church.

Other officers elected were:

Mrs. Rollen Mueller, vice-president.
Mrs. Harry Rust, recording secretary.
Mrs. Ralph Witham, promotion secretary.
Mrs. Lew Pauley, treasurer.
Mrs. N. H. Barnard, assistant treasurer.
Mrs. J. G. Vaughan, missionary education secretary.
Mrs. John Curtis, Christian local relations secretary.
Mrs. E. W. Koenig, local church activities secretary.
Mrs. Henry Enstlin, spiritual life secretary.
Mrs. Carl Temple, student work secretary.
Mrs. Harry Batt, youth secretary.
Mrs. Tony Shreve, children's secretary.
Mrs. L. L. Larson, literature and publications secretary.
Mrs. C. C. Rohmet, supplies secretary.
Mrs. J. B. Kniffin, status of women secretary.

Chairmen installed at the annual meeting were: Mrs. C. B. McMahon, publicity; Mrs. Grey Jewett, membership; and Mrs. L. H. Pauley, finance.

Circle presidents are Mrs. E. G. Bivins, Mrs. F. J. Marshall, Mrs. H. P. Knudsen, Mrs. Carl A. Clark, Mrs. E. W. Rowe, Mrs. A. P. Hillyer, Mrs. Jewel Chastain and Mrs. Ralph Payne. Miss Estella Kern was elected to head the Wesleyan Service guild.

At the close of the business meeting, an adult life membership was presented to Mrs. A. R. Marquard in appreciation of her outstanding work with the church society. A memorial membership was also awarded honoring the memory of Mrs. Allie Jackson.

The group took part in a memorial service for seven members of the society who died during the year.

Porch Party Or Picnic

Picnics are fun! Especially when they take a little effort to arrange as a "stay at home" porch picnic with the "eats" served piping hot from a modern family kitchen.

For the most "eatingsome" picnic fare serve tender, juicy, franks—dipped in a tangy barbecue sauce they fit into any time-saving scheme, "cause they're pre-cooked, ready to serve.

Prepare the barbecue sauce about an hour in advance, or keep a supply of several pints of sauce in your refrigerator made up and ready for heating. All you need do in either case is add the pre-cooked franks to the hot sauce and simmer for about 5 to 8 minutes. A colorful earthenware casserole will keep them warm for porch service and add a festive note at the same time. Plenty of hot buns, heated through in the oven or under the broiler, a tossed green salad, hot coffee and lavishly frosted chocolate cake complete your picnic feast.

Following is a recipe for a thick barbecue sauce. If you like your sauce to really pack a wallop, add 1/4 teaspoon of red pepper to the basic recipe.

For a variation on the versatile frank, serve a frank rarebit as your next lunch or dinner "quickie."

BARBECUED FRANKS

Yield: 8 servings.
Prepare a thick barbecue sauce. Add the franks and heat 5 to 8 minutes. One cup sauce is sufficient for one pound of franks.

THICK BARBECUE SAUCE

Yield: 1 pint.
2 small onions
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon chili powder
3/4 cup water
3/4 cup catsup
1 teaspoon salt
Shred onions very fine. Mix all ingredients in a heavy skillet. Cover and simmer about 45 minutes. Makes one pint of sauce.

FRANK RAREBIT

1 pound franks
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup top milk
1/4 pound American Cheese
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
6 slices toast
Heat soup and milk. Add cheese which has been shredded, and mustard. Stir and heat until cheese is melted. Cut franks crosswise into 1/4-inch slices. Heat in sauce. Serve on hot toast.

Evergreens Should Be Sprayed Now To Control Tip Blight

Spraying evergreen trees now will control tip blight infection according to Arden F. Sherf, plant pathologist at the University of Nebraska.

The blight, he says, is a fungus infection which spreads in the spring. Browning of the needles, beginning at the ends of the branches and working back and the evidence of tiny pin-point black spots on the needles indicate tip blight.

Sherf says Austrian pines are most susceptible to the disease, however, Scotch, red, Mugho and white pines also may be attacked. The plant pathologist says severe pruning of dead needles and branches in the fall and spraying right now with copper or Fomate will control the disease. He says bordeaux mixture, 2-2-50; a fixed copper spray, one pound in 25 gallons of water; or ferimate, one-fourth pound in 25 gallons of water may be used. Additional sprays may be applied, according to Sherf, when the candles are half grown, again 14 days later and a final application 14 days after the third spray.

Sign Broken—Klein's Harmony Bar, 1500 O street, reported that a neon sign tube in front of the bar was broken Tuesday morning by one of four young men who were scuffling in front of the place of business.

Elmer T. Prigga, 61, Burlington Lineman, Dies At VA Hospital

Elmer T. Prigga, 61, formerly of Grand Island, died at Veterans hospital Wednesday. He was a veteran of World War I and worked as lineman for the Burlington railroad.

Surviving are two brothers, Roy, Los Angeles, Cal., and O. F. Wy-more, and one sister, Mrs. A. L. Olson, Grand Island. Burial will be in Grand Island.

Toastmasters Talk On Election Results

Eugene Winslow, table topic master, led Capitol Toastmasters club No. 611 in a discussion of interpreting city election results during the Wednesday night meeting.

Ted G. Kimball was toastmaster. Speakers W. L. McMullen, Glen Rallsback, Scott Greenwood and Richard Trary were checked by members, with President A. W. Edling acting as chief critic. H. J. Trary is a new member of the club.

Election Vote 334 More Than April Primary

... Total Is 16,861

Only 334 more persons voted in the city general election Tuesday than voted in the April primary, Election Commissioner Ray Frohn reported Wednesday.

The official tally with absentee voters shows 16,861 persons voted Tuesday, 16,527 voted in the primary.

The absentee vote in Tuesday election was twice what it was in the primary. This had led Frohn to estimate the vote at 21,000.

Musical Program Is Presented By Northeast Alumni

Alumni of Northeast high school presented a musical program to the students of the school through their assembly Wednesday morning in the high school auditorium.

Master of Ceremonies Tom Keating presented the alumni and their specialty act as they appeared. Jean Janke and Marilyn Grosseohme played a piano duet, "Deep Purple," and "Malaguena." Jean Wood sang two solo numbers, "My Beautiful Lady" and "Waltzing in the Clouds."

Kathleen Forbes played two violin solo numbers, accompanied by Jean Janke on the piano. Janet Fairchild and Bob Kellogg played a piano duet, "Concerto in D." Dan Johns played the trumpet on "Body and Soul" and "Ain't Misbehavin'." Rosemary Lucke and Florence Lebeck applied the slapstick with "Ragtime Cowboy Joe," and imitations of Spike Jones' famous "Professor Beetlebaum." Leroy Yanney sang "Without a Song," "Old Man River" and "Far Away Places."

Mulder Denies Assault Charge

Henry W. Mulder, 43, Route two, Lincoln, pleaded not guilty in District court Wednesday to a state charge of assault with intent to do great bodily injury.

District Judge Ralph P. Wilson set trial for the first day of the next jury session, Monday, May 9.

The charge came as a result of an alleged fight occurring March 13 which resulted in the hospitalization of Albert Waniska, 45, 800 Summer. Waniska was hospitalized 13 days.

Mulder, who is free on $2,500 bond, was bound over to District court following a preliminary hearing in Municipal court April 15.

Holstein Feeding Research Boon To U. S. Meat Supply

...Says Head of N. U. Experiment Substation

NORTH PLATTE, Neb.—Results from a three-year research project on feeding Holstein steers at the University of Nebraska's North Platte experiment substation will prove a boon to the dairyman and a farmer with a small herd of milk cows and increase the nation's meat supply, Supt. J. C. Adams said Thursday.

Adams said the dairyman has always hoped for heavier calves from his dairy cows to propagate his herd, but sometimes he gets a steer calf. The steer calf usually is sold as veal and sometimes is killed because the dairyman feels the animal is too unprofitable to feed.

Myron Rumery, dairy husbandman, and Animal Husbandryman Guy N. Baker at the North Platte station worked out economical rations for the dairy steers so that a substantial profit may be realized. The first concrete result from the experiment came last June, when the steers on feeding tests were sold at Omaha. One lot sold for $28.50 a hundred-weight and averaged 1,012 pounds. The price was about $3 below the top of the market day and the meat grader at a packing house thought he was handling top beef.

'Very Salable' Meat.

Another lot of steers sold for $28 and averaged 1,027 pounds. Both lots dressed out about 59.5 per cent. Officials at the packing houses said the meat from both lots was "very salable."

Rumery experimented with various rations in the early feeding of calves. In the 1948 experiment all calves were on a complete skim milk diet by the 21st day. The animals were from three to 10 days old when started. Then they were weighed, measured and placed in three different lots of seven animals each.

One lot continued to receive skim milk, but the others received substitutes of blood meal, linseed oil meal and soybean oil meal. All received the same amount of ground yellow corn, whole oats, steamed bone meal and salt. In the 154-day feeding trial, lot No. 2 had 50 pounds of tankage added.

Acreage May Rise Due To Wheat Slump

Crop Prospects Are Generally Favorable In Western Nebraska

(By the Associated Press)

Corn planting was going on at full tilt in Nebraska Thursday.

And an extra measure of hope was going along with each kernel.

With winter wheat prospects not too glowing, farmers were looking to corn to compensate for any wheat crop deficits.

Although corn planting usually is done by the calendar rather than weather, this week's record breaking heat wave aided those who were behind schedule in preparing ground for planting.

The department of agriculture estimated in March that Nebraska farmers will plant 7,048,000 acres of corn this year. That would be the same as last year when the sixth largest corn crop on record was harvested in the state.

Replanting To Corn.
However, actual corn acreage may go higher than 7,048,000 because some abandoned winter wheat land will be replanted to corn.

The last estimate on the winter wheat crop, made as of April 1, called for a 78,872,000 bushel crop—nearly three million bushels under last year's crop.

The state-federal division of agricultural statistics in Lincoln subsequently observed that the estimate was made before the winter damage was fully recognized.

Another wheat crop estimate, based on conditions May 1, will be released May 10.

Fields Thinned Out.

Observers at Sidney, Neb., said that generally speaking, crop prospects are favorable in the west. An extensive acreage of winter killed wheat in Kimball and Banner counties has been reseeded to spring grains and

HER LIFE SAVED. Mrs. Shirley Palmer, 27, polio victim, smiles up at her husband, James, 31, whose ingenuity at hand-pumping her iron lung when the motor failed kept her breathing for 12 hours between Latamie, Wyo., and Omaha, Neb., where a new unit was obtained from the Omaha tire department. Palmer used a beer can opener to handle when the hand-pump handle bent. He pumped steadily for 10 hours, 17 pressure changes a minute, while a nurse counted "one-two-three-four" to steady the rhythm. The Palmers are shown at Chicago en route from Los Angeles to Biggs Memorial hospital, Lincoln, N. Y. (International Soundphoto.)

safflower. Cheyenne and Deuel counties escaped most of the winter damage although some fields are thinned out as a result of unfavorable weather during January, February and March.

There is more optimism in the ranch country than in the wheat country, reports indicated.

Hay Prospects Good.
The long winter depleted hay supplies in the Atkinson area and "most everyone is pasturing on meadows to keep back a little hay for a late storm," according to Ernest Gotschall, who with his brother, Ray, operates a ranch 20 miles southwest of Atkinson.

Hay prospects were described as excellent, promising a rebuilding of hay reserves which the rugged winter of '49 depleted. And blue grass prospects similarly were said to be excellent, although a late freeze is always a danger. An Atkinson man, traveling down the Elkhorn river valley from Atkinson to Fremont, said he "never saw Nebraska looking more wonderful."

Peterson Sees More Navigation Along Missouri

(Special to The Star)

FALLS CITY, Neb.—"The development of firm navigation on the Missouri river, a project long advocated by Falls City's late Governor Weaver and now about to be realized under the Pick-Sloan plan, will result in a gain of from six to eight cents per bushel for the grain growers of Richardson county," said Governor Val Peterson in an address before the Richardson county Historical society Monday. The gain would result from cheaper freight rates, he said.

The governor paid tribute to both the late governors from this county. He told of a visit to Governor Morehead when as a young politician he was employed to manage the first senate race of Senator Hugh Butler. Governor Morehead, a democrat, instructed him in the "know how" needed in conducting a political campaign, Peterson said.

Re-elect Officers.
Three of Nebraska's first ladies were present to hear the address. These included: Mrs. Arthur Weaver, Mrs. John Morehead and Mrs. Val Peterson.

A considerable part of the address concerned the urgency of soil and water conservation in this region under the Pick-Sloan plan, pointing out the great dividends to be reaped from irrigation, power development, navigation, flood control and recreation.

At a business meeting held prior to the society's banquet the following officers were re-elected:

Harold C. Prichard, president.

Mrs. I. C. Maust, first vice president.

D. H. Weber, second vice president.

L. P. Wirth, treasurer.

D. D. Reavis, historian.

Miss Nellie Schock, secretary.

Production Cost Of Turkeys Must Drop, Says Mueschl

With the prospect of 25 per cent increase in the supply of turkeys this year and lower prices, Nebraska poultry producers were warned Thursday they must cut production costs if they are to meet regional competition effectively.

The warning came from Prof. Frank E. Mueschl of the University of Nebraska poultry department. He said that if turkeys need to be sold at lower prices in order to have the supply accepted by consumers, the grower should make every possible effort to reduce production costs.

Peterson Named To Safety Post

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Governor Val Peterson of Nebraska has been named to head one of five regional groups whose job it will be to make automobile travel safer.

He was selected by Chairman Philip B. Fleming of the president's highway conference. Fleming gave each of the five groups a governor as chairman, a mayor as vice chairman and an experienced highway traffic official as secretary.

They are scheduled to meet in Washington the first week in June to put into effect the conference's action program for highway safety.

Gov. Peterson is chairman of region D. Mayor Allen Street of Oklahoma City is vice chairman and George M. Clarke, Texas Safety association, is secretary. States making up the region include Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas and Wisconsin.

FARM WOMEN'S EXCHANGE

EDITED BY CLARA BELL GRAVES

Address your letters to Mrs. Clara Bell Graves, editor, The Lincoln Star Exchange, 905 N. Fifth St., Springfield, Ill.

Among my letters is one from Grace Downs, the famous cover girl who established the first model school in New York City. She has discovered many beauty secrets.

She writes, "Many girls have tearfully asked me, 'Why can't I be beautiful?' And my answer is 'You can.' Beauty is not a size nor a feature. It is an intangible and the way to be beautiful is to act as if you were a beautiful person."

If you put a low value on yourself people will accept you as such. If you act beautiful and are well polished and sparkling and always present your best self to your public, they will regard you as lovely."

Miss Downs' philosophy reminds me of the young man who gave a bouquet of red roses to a friend. She wore some of them one night when they "had a date." On the way home, a small boy asked for some of the flowers and the young man said to the girl, "Give him some and I shall get more for you."

She smiled so bewitchingly that the young man exclaimed in dead earnest, "Smile like that always. You are beautiful when you smile."

Past Sixty Years

A woman past 60 wrote to a columnist who writes on beauty topics. "What can I do to keep shapely arms?" The answer was "Exercise." Another wrote, "How can I be shapely at my waist line?" The answer was "Exercise." It is so much fun to exercise by means of the radio, phonograph or a musical powder box that I wonder that every woman, young and old, does not do it.

Chipped Beef Suet

Another envelope that I opened in the morning mail gives a recipe that is brand new to me. It is made by browning a one-fourth pound package of chipped beef and one small can of corn, with shredded onion. Into this pour a can of mushroom soup and one cup water. Put into the mixture seasoning, such as desired. Bake in a 400 degree oven until set and slightly thickened. When serving the plates, pile some Chinese noodles in the center of each dish. Noodles should be warmed in an oven before serving.

Delightful Salad

Try this with a small can of sliced pineapple. Drain the can of pineapple juice by opening the top of can and pouring out the juice. Have ready lime jello and pour it into the can with the pineapple. Return can to refrigerator, and when jello is hard, remove can. With a knife cut around the contents of can. The pineapple and jello will come out a perfect mold. Cut the jello between the slices of pineapple and place each of the four slices on to a lettuce leaf. Top with mayonnaise if you want a salad, and with whipped cream if you want a dessert.

Carrot-Peach Salad

Open a can of peaches, drain off juice, place each half on to a lettuce leaf, cup side up. Fill peach cup with grated carrot and shredded coconut, mixed together with mayonnaise.

Dessert Pancakes

Pour pancake batter over a can of fruit cocktail, juice drained. Fry batter as usual. Sprinkle with confectioners sugar. Serve as dessert.

IN THE MAIL

Parker House Rolls

Soften two cakes of compressed yeast in two tablespoons lukewarm water. Scald one cup milk and add to one-half cup granulated sugar, one-half cup shortening and one teaspoon salt. Cool. Then add three eggs and beat well. Add two cups flour and yeast and beat again, about four minutes. With a spoon add as much more flour as can be stirred into the dough without kneading, about three or four cups. Put into a greased bowl, cover with a towel and let rise until double in bulk. Turn out on a slightly floured board, roll out and form in Parker House rolls. Let rise again until double in bulk. Bake in a hot oven for about 15 minutes. These make very light, feathery rolls. —Mrs. David Sheets, Box 314, Milford, Neb.

Onion and Peanuts

For something different, cook creamed onions just as you always do. Before serving, add one-half cup coarsely chopped, salted peanuts to one and one-half quarts creamed onions.—Mrs. Will Umphres, 529 South Fifth street, Lincoln, Neb.

Problems Of Great Plains Subject Of Conference At N.U.

Ten states will be represented here Friday and Saturday for the semi-annual meeting of the Northern Great Plains council. The organization is composed of a voluntary group which deals with this area's problems.

Sessions will be held at the University of Nebraska Student Union building to clarify policies of the organization on irrigation, drainage, land use measures, conservation and flood control, water yield measures, research and education. There will be a discussion of the basis of work relationships with agriculture and with governmental agencies.

Speakers to discuss proposals for policies to be followed by the organization will be given by various chairmen of subcommittees for the NGPC. They include Gladwin Young of the U. S. department of agriculture, Lloyd Reed of the soil conservation service, Robert Green of the production marketing administration, Kirk Sandall of the soil conservation service and J. K. Brandberry of the forestry service, all stationed at Lincoln; and I. B. Johnson, director of the agricultural experiment station at South Dakota State college at Brookings; and H. G. Gould, associate director of the University of Nebraska agricultural extension service.

At the Saturday morning session, Claude Wakeland, Denver, of the bureau of plant quarantine and entomology, will speak on insect controls as an integrated part of agricultural practices. Dr. W. V. Lambert, dean of the Nebraska college of agriculture, will outline initial steps of the forestry committee and Glen Johnson, Manhattan, Kan., chairman of the Kansas PMA committee, will tell about initial steps on a program for diverted crop acres. Elmer Starch, Lincoln, secretary of the Great Plains committee, will offer comments on land classification for tax purposes.

Vets Reminded Service Papers Speed Benefits

Veterans planning to apply in person for VA benefits, particularly hospitalization, were reminded Thursday that claims will be handled more quickly if they bring along their service discharge papers.

Certified or photostatic copies of discharge papers are sufficient evidence in applying for all benefits except GI loans, which require presentation of the original service separation certificate, Ashley Westmoreland, Lincoln regional office manager, said.

N. W. Male Chorus In Final Concert Tonight

Professor Leonard E. Paulson will direct his 24-voice Nebraska Wesleyan university male capella chorus in a concert of sacred and secular music at St. Paul Methodist church Thursday at 8 p. m.

In addition to choral numbers, the varied program will feature two quartets, vocal soloists, and readers.

The program will range from choral favorites by Bach and Lvosky to lighter selections by such contemporary favorites as Vincent Youmans and Jerome Kern.

This will be the final concert of the season for the Wesleyan male group which included an 1,800 mile concert tour on a busy activities program this year.

New Drug Discovery Brings Quick Relief From Polio Pain

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE.

(Associated Press Science Reporter)

BUFFALO, N. Y. — (AP) — A drug bringing quick, safe relief from pain in infantile paralysis was announced today by three New York physicians.

Pain, and cramping or spasm are often severe in the early stages of polio. Even muscles that don't become paralyzed are often painful and tender to the touch.

The drug, named priscol, quickly abolishes the pain, spasm and tenderness. Drs. Emil Smith, David J. Grauhard and Philip Rosenblatt of Brooklyn told the New York State Medical society.

They said it had worked successfully, and often dramatically, on 120 polio patients last year at the Kingston Avenue hospital in Brooklyn. The drug can be taken by mouth or by injection.

Relief In 24 Hours.

The polio victims got relief from pain within 24 hours or less, they said. They rested more comfortably by day, slept quietly at night, and their appetites improved. Arms or legs which they kept bent because of pain or spasm could be straightened out easily, permitting quicker exercise to keep the muscle strong and reduce the after-effects of polio.

Some patients improved so quickly they could be sent home or to orthopedic hospitals within a week or two, the physicians reported.

Priscol did not halt the march of the polio bug or virus along nerve pathways. No drug is known that can do this. But it reduced pain when other drugs, even morphine, did not.

Blocks Nerve Pathways.

The drug works by blocking the nerve pathways of the sympathetic nervous system. It doesn't affect the central nervous system, which is the main invasion ground for the polio virus.

The doctors reasoned that while only part of the spinal cord is affected by the virus, waves or volleys of nerve impulses pass on through the sympathetic nerves. These nerve volleys produce spasms in blood vessels, resulting in pain and muscle spasm in arms, legs and sites far from the central infection. Blocking the sympathetic pathways releases pain and spasm.

Long-lasting Relief For Itchy Skin Irritation

30 Killed In Turin Crash

TURIN—(INS)—Rescue workers today dragged charred bodies out of the twisted wreckage of a tri-motored Italian plane in which 30 persons, including 18 members of Italy's championship soccer team, were killed yesterday.

Poor visibility was blamed for the tragedy in which the plane hit a hill in the center of Turin, the cathedral and then plunged to the ground in its courtyard.

Life Failures Lie In Doing Less Than Best

Doane College President Tells Wesleyan Students

"The only real failure in life is in doing less than your best," President David L. Crawford of Doane college, Crete told more than 800 Nebraska Wesleyan university students and faculty members Thursday.

Speaking on the subject, "The Significance of Grades," at the 24th annual Honors day ceremonies, Dr. Crawford added, "... education is not a race with one winner and all the rest losers, but a pilgrimage in which many arrive and all should help each other."

"Honors rightfully," Dr. Crawford continued, "go to those who have been outstanding in acquisition and use of understanding."

Cites Talents Parable. He asked the Wesleyan students and faculty to remember the parable of the talents. "Much is expected of the talented, but if the man of small talent does not use what he has for fear of its being too meager, he draws only scorn as a quitter," Dr. Crawford concluded.

Some 150 students who have demonstrated superior achievement in academic work, forensics, or have earned individual honors for Nebraska Wesleyan or elected to honorary societies, heard Dr. Crawford and were officially recognized for the school by Dean of the College Roy W. Deal.

Rev. Virgil Anderson, pastor of Warren Methodist church, pronounced the invocation and Prof. Leonard Paulson sang "Without a Song" by Vincent Youmans. A special feature of the program was the presentation of the Ideal Plainsman and Ideal Plainswoman, students most representative of the ideals of Nebraska Wesleyan as selected by the student body.

Dr. J. C. Jensen, head of the department of physics and astronomy and chairman of the honors committee, was in charge of arrangements and presided over the convocation.

1,500 Attend City Schools Big Music Festival At N.U.

The second annual all-city spring music festival was presented by the Lincoln public schools Tuesday night with over 1,500 persons in attendance at the University of Nebraska coliseum.

Combined orchestras, bands, and choral groups from junior and senior high schools turned the spring evening with summer's temperatures into a quite pleasant one with a semi-classical program.

All musical groups exhibited exceptional co-ordination of sections and tone qualities despite poor acoustics of the coliseum. However, the staging facilities were capable of handling large numbers of performers with a minimum of confusions.

Cadet March.

The program opened with Sousa's "High School Cadet March" by the band directed by George Anderson. The junior high mixed choruses sang two numbers, "Night" and "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen."

Ruth Haberly directed the group. "A Little Song of Life" and "Villia" were sung by the junior high girls' chorus under direction of Velma Smith. William Spilchak directed the combined orchestra in the number, "A Fox Hunt."

The senior high girls choruses sang "O Savior Sweet" and "Sea Moods," under direction of Dorothy Gore. "Grant Us To Do With Zeal" and "Rolling Down to Rio" were vocal numbers presented by the senior high boys directed by H. T. Rangelier.

The combined bands directed by Lyle Welch played "Concert Overture in G Minor" followed by "There Is a Balm in Gilead" and "Praise to the Lord" sung by senior high mixed choruses under direction of Mrs. Velma Snook.

The finale, "Rise, Men Courageous" played and sung by all the student musicians was directed by Bernard Nevin. Mrs. Janet Huffman, John Cole, and Jerry Ginsburg were the pianists accompanying the choral groups.

WHY ANCIENT AGE IS WORLD'S LARGEST-SELLING 5-YEAR-OLD STRAIGHT KENTUCKY BOURBON

FOREWORD: You are entitled to know the real truth about the whiskey situation in the United States as of right now. Here are the facts. You owe it to yourself to read every word of this Statement.

THE STRAIGHT WHISKEY DISTILLING CO. OF AMERICA

When there was plenty of fully matured whiskey in the United States, Ancient Age was the largest-selling 5-year-old Straight Kentucky Bourbon in the world. Today, "Double-A" (as Ancient Age is affectionately known to millions of friends) is once again, America's most widely-purchased 5-year-old Straight Kentucky Bourbon. Behind this impressive swing back to favor lies a story of transcendent importance to everyone who buys or drinks whiskey, and who is interested in knowing what he gets for his money and why.

LET'S TURN BACK THE CALENDAR

Bourbon is the type of whiskey that America has always favored most. Even today, more Bourbon (in one form or another) is consumed than any other kind of whiskey. Originally made in Kentucky, Bourbon was for many years made only in Kentucky. And Kentucky Bourbon... Straight Kentucky Bourbon... remains the standard of Bourbon excellence, today possibly more than ever.

WHAT'S BEHIND THE 'KENTUCKY' TRADITION?

Is there anything to the universally-held belief that Kentucky Bourbon is superior to other types of straight whiskies? The answer is an emphatic Yes!

It is absolutely true that there is something in the soil of Kentucky that makes its famous limestone water, drawn from deep, cool springs, impart a particular quality to the whiskies in which it is used. Even the peculiar climate of Kentucky seems to contribute its unique share to the production of Bourbon Whiskey that is unsurpassed in flavor, bouquet and gentle friendliness.

"OF HEART AND HAND"

Perhaps it is not possible to establish these things chemically, but the making of whiskey is no more a pure matter of science than is the breeding of superlative blue-bloods, another activity in which Kentucky reigns supreme in the Nation. The making of whiskey is a process of heart and hand... and there is no gain-saying the fact that the most famous distillers have been Kentuckians. And so craftsmanship and an inherent feel for painstaking distilling methods, must be considered one of the most important reasons for the superiority of Straight Kentucky Bourbon, and the popularity it has enjoyed throughout American history.

WHAT WAR-TIME RESTRICTIONS DID

During the War, virtually no Straight Kentucky Bourbon Whiskey was "laid down"... that is: distilled and put aside to age. Stocks of aged Straight Kentucky Bourbon, while adequate for normal, peace-time needs, proved inadequate to the increased War-time demand. Many brands were withdrawn from the market. Ancient Age, at that time the largest-selling 5-year-old Straight Kentucky Bourbon, was among these.

THE SWING BACK

Now, Ancient Age is back again. Today, this great Straight Kentucky Bourbon has behind it, the largest stock of aged and aging Kentucky whiskies in the world! These huge reserves are America's assurance of Ancient Age's continuing availability and unchanging high quality... its even maturity; natural aging; absolute uniformity.

More important than the news of its being back in quantity, is the companion fact that Ancient Age is again in its position of leadership... the largest-selling 5-year-old Straight Kentucky Bourbon in the world.

It didn't take America long to find out that Ancient Age was back. It didn't take America long to re-establish Ancient Age as its favorite 5-year-old Straight Kentucky Bourbon, and right now, hundreds and hundreds of thousands are coming back for Ancient Age... not once, but again and again!

There must be a reason for this preference that has twice asserted itself. And there is.

IT BOILS DOWN TO THIS

The real truth about Ancient Age's popularity is based on two important facts. First, Ancient Age is all Straight Whiskey... every single drop. Second, this Straight Whiskey is Kentucky Bourbon... every single drop... distilled, matured and bottled in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, by Kentucky craftsmen. From this high standard, Ancient Age has never deviated... and never will.

Important, too, is the fact that every single drop of Ancient Age Straight Kentucky Bourbon is thoroughly and uniformly matured for five long years, before it is bottled. This careful, traditional aging process gives "Double-A" a mellow flavor that is distinctive and easily recognized. Most whiskey fanciers who try Ancient Age are never again satisfied with a lesser whiskey.

WHY FIVE YEARS OLD?

Ancient Age doesn't just "happen" to be 5 years old. It is 5 years old because the famous old Kentucky distillers who make this superb Straight Kentucky Bourbon believe that at exactly five years of age, Straight Kentucky Bourbon Whiskey attains its ultimate peak of flavor, richness, bouquet... all the qualities that have made this type of whiskey so famous.

Experience in producing "Double-A"... and its acceptance by the American Public... amply justify this carefully arrived-at belief. America likes this 5-year-old Straight Kentucky Bourbon better than any other kind or brand. Ancient Age is, in all truth, "the Whiskey with Age in its flavor".

MAKE THIS TEST

You have read the facts about Ancient Age, and about Straight Kentucky Bourbon Whiskey. Now put these facts to the acid test of your own taste. Buy a single bottle of Ancient Age Straight Kentucky Bourbon Whiskey. Try it in a high-ball, in a cocktail and sip it thoughtfully, "neat". Roll it under your tongue. Savor it as it slips so gently down your throat. Notice what a refreshingly different taste lingers in your mouth, setting your delicate taste-glands to "watering".

Ask yourself, in all honesty, if you have ever tasted a Whiskey so smooth, so perfectly matured, so full of fine flavor, so easy-to-take.

LIKE WITH LIKE

Then, compare Ancient Age with any and all other Bourbons. But when you do, be sure you compare like with like.

First, make sure that it is Straight Whiskey. Make sure that it is Kentucky Whiskey. Make sure it is Bourbon Whiskey. Not just one, but all three, because Ancient Age is all three. It's Straight Kentucky Bourbon Whiskey, every single drop! Compared fairly, you'll find that Ancient Age is your best choice. Then, we sincerely believe, you, too, will come back for Ancient Age again and again. You, too, will join the millions who have come back to the old standard of honest whiskey flavor-values... for the old flavor-favorite of all 5-year-old Straight Kentucky Bourbons... Ancient Age!

The Press Always Gets A Star

— For Giving News

THERE'S NOTHING LIKE THE press, we always say, to let you know how the other half of the world is living—Some of our extra-curricular reading recently impressed us so much we're passing the high spots on—

THERE WAS, for example, in the society column of a large and altogether fascinating paper—a story of a record shower for some about-to-be-marrieds—And then we always enjoy reading about the smart clothes other people wear—This time it was a fiancée who wore to a party in her honor—a navy taffeta ballerina frock—her corsage of pink orchids matching the pink straw cloche encircled with tiny seed pearls—

And how does the idea of "a pair of gray love-birds in a cage swathed with white flowers and greenery" strike you as a centerpiece for table at a party for a bride-to-be?

BUT ENOUGH OF THE ROAMING in the news—and down to the day's business—We have on our books, a little about brides-to-be—a little about homecomers—a guest or two—and so on and so forth—

SPEAKING OF GUESTS—Lieut. Florence Louise Kimmel of the army nurse corps, arrived in Lincoln Thursday afternoon to be the house guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Donald T. Waggener, Lieut. Kimmel has just returned to the States after two years duty in Linz, Austria. She is a graduate of the Bryan Memorial hospital school of nursing, and during the war was stationed overseas in the European theater. At the end of her thirty days leave, during which she also will go to Morrill, Kas., where she will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Kimmel—Lieut. Kimmel will go to Letterman General hospital, San Francisco, where she will be stationed.

COMPLIMENTING Lieut. Kimmel, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Jorgensen will be a dinner host and hostess this evening at the University club.

OUR BRIDES-TO-BE for the day are Miss Evelyn Maxwell, whose marriage to Wayne Whiting will be an event of June 11—and Miss Evelyn Obrist, who has chosen May 21 for her marriage to John P. Aylward.

On Tuesday evening Miss

Obrist was the honoree at a linen shower for which Mrs. Eugene Weiler was hostess at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Weiler. A guest eight-some was invited for the shower and an informal evening.

This evening Miss Obrist will again be an honoree when Mrs. Mary Fogarty and Mrs. Paul Ohlheimer entertain at the home of Mrs. Fogarty. Fourteen guests have been invited for an evening of bridge and a miscellaneous shower for the bride-elect.

THE WEEK-END WILL BE A BUSY one for Miss Maxwell who will be complimented on Saturday when Mrs. John Polk and Miss Mary Shockey are hostesses at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Polk. The sixteen guests will spend the afternoon hours informally, and Miss Maxwell will be presented with a shower.

And then—on Sunday evening, Mrs. Florence Gibbons will be hostess to the members of the Quota club at her home, honoring Miss Maxwell. The thirty guests will spend the evening informally and will present the bride-to-be with a one-gift shower.

OFF TO COLORADO SPRINGS this evening will go Miss Mary Sue Holland and Mrs. Duncan Sowles—delegates from the active and alumnae chapter of Delta Gamma to the province convention. The convention will be held at the Broadmoor on May 6, 7 and 8.

HEAR THAT MISS DIANA GAMBREL of Kansas City, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Graham of Lincoln, whose marriage to Nickels Wright Huston is an event of June 25, has chosen Miss Kathy Graham as one of her bridesmaids, while Pat Graham will serve as one of the ushers.

Miss Jan Gambrel, who has visited in Lincoln frequently, will be her sister's maid of honor.

OUR HOMECOMER is Mrs. Herbert E. Gooch, who returned to Lincoln a few days ago from California where she spent the entire winter.

MEANT TO TELL YOU yesterday that young Miss Heiny arrived on Tuesday, May 3, at Bryan Memorial hospital—Her parents, as you no doubt know, are Mr. and Mrs. Rems C. Heiny, and her mother is the former Shirley Hinds.

HOSTESS-ING AT luncheon today at the Lincoln Country club were Mrs. John Zimmer, Jr., and her mother, Mrs. J. G. Maroon, who entertained as a courtesy to Mrs. Bruce Witham of San Diego, formerly of Lincoln. The fourteen guests spent the afternoon hours with bridge.

SOMEONE TOLD US THAT Mr. and Mrs. Abe Byron left Wednesday evening for a trip east. En route they will stop over at Peoria, Ill., for a visit with their niece, Mrs. Alfred Berman (Harriet Byron), Mr. Berman, and their very young grandnephew, Byron Lee Berman. En route home Mr. and Mrs. Byron will be the guests of Mrs. Byron's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rapaport, in Muskegon, Mich.

Cub Scouts Hobby Show Is May 14th

... At Fair Grounds

Lincoln Cub Scouts will present their annual hobby show in the Mercantile building on the state fairgrounds May 14, Walton C. Ferris, general chairman, announced Thursday. The hobby show is sponsored by the Lincoln Rotary club.

Other committeemen in charge of this year's show include the following: General arrangements, A. H. "Bill" Farrens; publicity, Bruce Nicoll; reception committee, Edgar Westervelt, Jr.; and judging, Robert Van Pelt.

The annual hobby show is a demonstration of the skill in crafts and a wide range of hobbies of several hundred young men organized in the Cub Scout program of Lincoln. Cubbing is a younger boy program of the Boy Scouts of America.

This year's show promises to be bigger and better than ever, according to Erven Brezina, in charge of the Cub program for the Lincoln Boy Scout office. The show will be open from 2 to 5 p. m., and from 7 to 9 p. m. This is the sixth annual show and each year several thousand Lincolinites attend.

State Waterway Group Opposes N. U. Budget Cut

... Hits Curtailment

The Nebraska section of the American Waterway association Wednesday opposed cutting the University of Nebraska budget.

John Cramer, secretary-treasurer of the association, presented a resolution which urged the approval of Chancellor R. G. Gustafson's outline of funds needed.

The association charged that the college of engineering is already inadequate to the needs of the state that if the budget were reduced, the extension and research carried on in the field of water, location, purification, and development would have to be curtailed.

The resolution added that the engineering college has performed valuable service to the state through training of municipal utilities managers and operators, and despite the low salary scale the faculty still strives to meet the needs of the public through research and training.

Copies of the resolution have been sent to Chancellor Gustafson, Dean Roy Green, of the engineering college, and legislature.

Yard Inspection, Housing Survey To Begin Monday

The yard inspection committee of the Urban League on Monday will start its house to house visit of the homes of the Negro residents of Lincoln. As usual they will visit these homes to judge them as to cleanliness and the degree of beautification since last year. On the basis of their decision, prizes will be awarded to the first five in each class.

In addition to yard inspection this year, a population and housing survey will be made with the purpose of learning the Negro population increase and a factual picture of housing for the group.

Mrs. Anna Newton is chairman of the inspection committee. Other members are Mrs. Leona Dean, Wyatt Williams, Fred Nevels and Rev. Melvin Shakespeare.

MRS. WILLIAM JOHN LEAR

Popular Delta Gamma Is Mid-April Bride

Announcement is made today by Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Hinrichs of the marriage of their daughter, Catherine Jane, to William John Lear, son of Dr. and Mrs. William D. Lear of Ainsworth.

The ceremony was solemnized at 4 o'clock, the afternoon of Thursday, April 14, at the Trinity Methodist church. The double ring service was read by the Rev. Howard P. Buxton before a background of Easter lilies, white snapdragon and lighted cathedral candles. The wedding music was played by Melvin West.

The bride appeared with her father who gave her in marriage. For her wedding she chose a beige-toned suit with which she wore navy blue accessories. Pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of white orchids.

Miss Damaris Suttle of Fremont, the maid of honor and only attendant, wore a pastel blue suit. Her accessories were black and her corsage was fashioned of gardenias.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. William A. Hinrichs of Douglas, Wyo., Mrs. Raymond G. Marvin and Miss Joan Holmes assisted in the dining room. Miss Anne Lear of Ainsworth had charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Lear attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority, and Alpha Lambda.

Mr. Lear also attended the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lear are now students at the University of Nebraska college of medicine, Omaha, where Mr. Lear is a member of Nu Sigma Nu.

Mr. Lear and his bride are residing at 1217 South Twenty-fifth avenue, Omaha.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Survey Shows Video May Cut Divorce Rate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Television is about to strike a telling blow against divorce and in favor of the happy, charming and contented home, a Woodbury college survey indicates.

Hal Evry of the faculty sent his students on a door-to-door survey that embraced 2,000 television owners.

"The majority of these families," says Evry, "say television has affected their daily living habits. People are staying home more. This means a closer family relationship which should cut the divorce rate. Social gatherings and parties in the homes are increasing."

Dust Storms 'Greet' Sowers In Southwest

Goodwill Tour Into Final Day

McCOOK, Neb. — The Lincoln chamber of commerce Sowers got a reminder of weather in the '30s Wednesday when they traveled through a severe dust storm for nearly 40 miles between Benkelman and Culbertson.

The goodwill organization, which began a three-day tour Tuesday, said intensity of the swirling dust limited visibility during the afternoon to less than half a mile.

Piled In Drifts.

They reported dust was piled in drifts "just like snow." The second day of the jaunt ended with a dinner at Trenton where 1,500 persons greeted the group's arrival. From there they came here for an overnight stay. Trenton residents were obviously proud of the boom which building of the Culbertson dam (which may soon be Trenton dam) has caused there. Trenton spokesmen said they expect the dam to spur development of one of the finest park areas in the state in a few years.

Thursday the Lincoln men will return home after making stops at Oberlin and Norton, Kas., and Beaver City, Stamford, Orleans, Alma, Franklin, Red Cloud, Nelson and Clay Center, Neb.

Banquet Honors Five Pleasant Dale Seniors

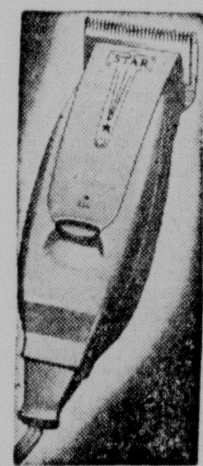

Five seniors were honored Wednesday night at Pleasantdale senior-senior banquet at the Cornhusker hotel.

The seniors, headed by class president Kenneth Ficke, were sponsored by A. E. Wolff, superintendent at Pleasantdale. The juniors were sponsored by Mrs. Kenneth Hansen, whose husband also attended. Junior class president Velda Borchers welcomed the seniors.

Mrs. Charles Huffman, an instructor at Pleasantdale, also attended.
